By Saint Andrew, here's a common fellow, a stipendiary, with four pounds a year and a livery cloak, thinks himself too good to serve Ritt Master Dugald Dalgetty of Drumthwacket, who has studied humanity at the Marischal College of Aberdeen, and served half the princes of Europe.—Legend of Montrose.

William's Father, a man always venerable to me, had founded Marischal College, Aberdeen, — where for a few, in these stern granite Countries, the Diviner Pursuits are still possible (thank God and this Keith) on frugal oatmeal.—Carlyle's Friedrich.

Why have we not a history of Marischal College and University, or, at least, an Athenae et Fasti of that venerable institution? . . . The roll of the notabilities of Marischal College might seem not an insignificant one. At all events, it is the bounden duty of any Anthony Wood that may be living now in Aberdeen to do his best to draw it up. . . . For, alas! the history may now be rounded off and complete. There is still a fine granite building called Marischal College, in which a portion of the work of the United University is carried on; but the real antique establishment—Dugald Dalgetty's Marischal College and mine—is no longer in rerum natura.—Professor Masson in Macmillan's Magazine, February, 1864.

PREFACE TO VOLUME II.

THE first volume of the Fasti Academiae Mariscallanae dealt with the Endowments of the College. It was the intention of the editor to include in the second volume not merely the Roll of Officers, Graduates and Alumni, but such other University records as seemed worthy of print. The unexpectedly great amount of space occupied by the lists of names—the Fasti proper—has, however, made it necessary to postpone selections from Faculty Minutes, from Visitation Reports, from Acts of Parliament and of Privy Council, from the Register of the Aberdeen Town Council, and from other muniments illustrating the history of the University.

The editor desires, meanwhile, to register the sources, manuscript and printed, from which he has compiled the lists printed in the volume now issued; and to chronicle the friends whose obliging assistance has enabled him to identify so many of the persons that these lists include.

The youngest of the Scottish Universities, Marischal College is singular in possessing no continuous record of teachers or of students. Their names have had to be brought together from printed Theses, from occasional Matriculation rolls, from Chamber Maills accounts, from Diploma vouchers, from Presentations to bursaries by Town Council and Incorporated Trades, from Grammar School exit lists, and from other sources detailed at length below. Yet this lack of continuity is, to some extent at least, compensated for by the amount of information that can be obtained regarding the parentage of the alumni—for bursars from 1619, for all students from 1773—information such as prior to 1860 is not known to have been recorded in the archives of the Universities of St. Andrews, Glasgow, King's College, and Edinburgh.

[1] On the fly-leaf of this volume appears the following note in the handwriting of the Rev. Peter Colin Campbell, Principal of the University of Aberdeen:—

"When in Edinburgh attending the General Assembly in May, 1870, I was informed by the Lord Clerk Register, the Rt. Honble. Sir William Gibson-Craig, Bart., that this volume had been found in the Register Office. I requested that it might be given up to me for the University, and, at Sir W. G. C.'s suggestion, embodied that request in a letter to him. This letter he forwarded to H.M. Government, and, in accordance with the instructions sent to him, he placed the volume in my hands on behalf of the University. Neither Sir W. G. C., nor any of the officials of the Register Office, succeeded in ascertaining when and how the volume had been brought to Edinburgh. The conjecture that it had been taken possession of by the Government in connection with the political troubles of 1715, in which the Earl Marischal and the officials of the College were implicated, is obviated by the fact that the volume contains entries as late as 1721. The most probable conjecture, we concluded, was that it had been forwarded to Edinburgh in connection with some legal process in the last century, and had not been reclaimed.

[1] In not a few instances the editor has been obliged to call in question the identifications of the Fasti Eccl. Scot. It must be borne in mind that, when compiling his monumental work, Dr. Scott had access neither to Album I. (see footnote on p. viii.) nor to any of the records used by the present editor to fill up the gap from 1682-83 to 1699-1700, nor to the Town Council Register, where alone, from 1619 to 1773, are entered the names of students' fathers. The earlier graduation lists of St. Andrews (not yet printed), of Glasgow (printed in part in the Munimenta), of King's College (printed in part in the Fasti Aberd.), and of Edinburgh (printed in 1858 and 1867), have no record of parentage. These appear to have been examined by Dr. Scott, as also probably Albums II.-IV. of Marischal College, and his method seems to have been to identify A. B., ordained minister of the parish of C. in say 1650 with the like named graduate of St. Andrews, Glasgow, King's Coll. or Edinburgh nearest in date to 1650: allowance being made, in doubtful cases, for the proximity of C. to these four Universities respectively. It is easy to see how some of these identifications might be upset by the discovery of the Marischal registers, with in many cases the parentage of the students.

The manuscript Collections of Professor William Knight, partly in the University Library, and partly in the hands of his surviving daughter,[1] have proved of immense service. Of the older College archives Knight had a minute knowledge, and from 1810, when he first became associated with the teaching staff of the University, until his death in 1844, he lost no opportunity of recording every incident bearing upon College history. A considerable portion of his Collections had been written out by him, for use, it would appear, by the original Spalding Club.

Principal Sir William D. Geddes has furnished many valuable identifications and suggestions.

The Rev. Stephen Ree, minister of Boharm, has been able to supply numerous details regarding the schoolmasters of the district served by the Universities of Aberdeen, a subject of which he has made a special study.

The intimate acquaintance with Aberdeenshire genealogy possessed by Surgeon-Colonel William Johnston of Newton Dee has contributed much to the accurate identification of students at the College during the last hundred years of its existence.

To Mr. James F. Kellas Johnstone, London, the editor is under obligations which he cannot adequately express. Mr. Johnstone's extensive knowledge of the men and books of Northern Scotland, especially during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, has been freely drawn upon; and he has grudged neither time nor trouble in examining records and verifying references that were inconvenient of access to the editor. It may be safely said that there is hardly a page of this volume but owes some of its interest to Mr. Johnstone's diligence. The unusually complete Index, which will be issued to members in a separate form, is due entirely to him.

These four members of the New Spalding Club have also laid the editor under a debt of gratitude by reading all the proof sheets of this volume, as they issued from the press.

The editor has further to express his indebtedness to Mr. A. M. Munro, Town House, Aberdeen, and Mr. R. S. Rait, New College, Oxford, for frequent assistance; to several old Marischal College alumni and others, for the use of Class Records and for information regarding students; to the possessors of portraits, who have permitted their reproduction in this volume; and to Mr. Joseph Ogilvie, LL.D., and the late Mr. Alexander Cruickshank, LL.D., who defrayed the cost of the photogravures of Dr. James Melvin and Professor John Cruickshank.

OFFICERS OF MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY.

CHANCELLORS.[1]

1593. George Keith, fifth Earl Marischal, Baron Keith and Altrie.

Married, 1st, Margaret, dau. of Alexander, fifth Baron Home, with issue, William, sixth Earl, Anne (m. William, second Earl of Morton), Margaret (m. Sir Robert Arbuthnot): and, 2nd, Margaret, dau. of James, sixth Baron Ogilvie, with issue, James and John, who both died without legitimate male issue. Died 2nd April, 1623. Portrait after Jamesone in possession of University, reproduced in Vol. I., and in the great window, Mitchell Hall, Mar. Coll. (Dict. Nat. Biog. Douglas' Peerage. G. E. Smith's Oratio in qua Acad. Marisch. Maecenates commemorantur, Abred., 1702. Delit. Poet. Scot., II., 314. The editor has been unable to trace a copy of Thomas Cargill's "Verse in Latin in commendatioune of my Lord Marischeall for erecking the new College in Aberdeen," printed for the Aberdeen Town Council in 1593. Notes and Queries, 7, I., 129.)

1623. William Keith, sixth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of John, seventh Earl of Mar, with issue, William, seventh Earl; George, eighth Earl; Robert, d. unm.; John, first Earl of Kintore; Mary (m. John, Lord Kinpont), Jean (m. Alexander, Lord Pitsligo), and Anne. Died 28th October, 1635. Portrait by Jamesone in possession of Major the Hon. Robert Baillie-Hamilton, reproduced in Vol. I. (Dict.

[1] The duties of the Chancellor are set forth in the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., p. 39), but nothing is said as to the mode of election. In one passage (p. 44) it is implied that he may be "minister verbi," but the Earls Marischal were regarded as Chancellors till their forfeiture in 1716. Their usual title, however, was "patron," the college being called the "Earl Marischal's College". They issued presentations to the Principalship and the Regencies: see Vol. I., p. 69.

[1] This very scarce volume contains three epigrams by Arthur Johnston, which have eluded the notice of the editor of Musa Latina Aberd. They run as follows:—

"IN OBITUM ILLUSTRISSIMI WILHELMI KETHI COMITIS MARESCHALLANI.

"Tot modo terrarum dominus, nunc KETHUS Olympum
Possidet et superi jugera vasta soli.
Marmoreas fugiens et dignas regibus arces,
Aurea nunc coeli, cum Iove, tecta colit.
Et quos audierat saeclis egisse triumphos
Bis tribus, ingentes hic prope cernit avos.
Quemque clientelis stipatum vidimus, astra
Nunc super, aligero cingitur ille choro.
Et satur ambrosia est et vivit nectare Divum,
Cui latices tellus ante dapesque dedit.
Si bona praeteritis confers praesentia, KETHUS
Dum foret in terris, pauper inopsque fuit.
Si tamen ingenii dotes, animique potentis
Aurea pensentur munera, dives erat.

"ALIUD.

"Ipse tua radians et avita luce coruscus,
Gentis Hyperboreae gloria, KETHE, jaces.
Illustris tibi vita fuit, mors aemula vitae est,
Illa tuis meritis, conjugis ista nitet.
Te Dea complexa est morientem mollibus ulnis,
Fovit et ambrosio frigida colla sinu:
Ore legens animam, labris infudit amomum,
Fixit et Idaliis oscula plena rosis.
Et sibi sidereos lachrymis suffudit ocellos,
Et clausit nivea lumina functa manu.
Si possent gelido Superi succumbere letho,
Sic ego crediderim Numina velle mori.

"ALIUD.

"KETHE soli coelique decus, non unius uxor
Virtutis specimen, te moriente, dedit.
Luminibus lachrymas libavit et oscula labris,
Dextraque palpebram clausit utramque manus.
Luminibus luctum, labris testatur amorem,
Dextra manus fortem monstrat et esse piam.

"Arth. Johnstonus, M.D."

1635. William Keith, seventh Earl Marischal.

Married, 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of George, third Earl of Winton, with issue, William (d. in inf.), Mary, (m. Sir James Hope of Hopetoun), Elizabeth (m. Robert, second Viscount Arbuthnott), Jean (m. George, third Baron Banff), Isabel (m. Sir Edward Turner, bart.): 2nd, Anne, dau. of Robert, eighth Earl of Morton. Died 1661. (Dict. Nat. Biog. G. E. C. The Graduation Theses of 1626 are dedicated "Comiti de Keth, optimae spei adolescenti"; those of 1634, "illustr. Com. Maresch. filio natu maximo, unicis nostrarum musarum deliciis"; those of 1658, "Comiti Marischallo, musarum fautori propensissimo". He was a bajan in 1631, infra.)

1661.[1] George Keith, eighth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of George, second Earl of Kinnoul, with issue, William, ninth Earl. Died 1694. (Dedication to Theses of 1669 and 1673. G. E. C.)

1694. William Keith, ninth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of James, fourth Earl of Perth, with issue, George, tenth Earl; James, Marshal Keith, Mary (m. John, sixth Earl of Wigton), Anne (m. Alexander, sixth Earl of Galloway). Died 27th May, 1712. (G. E. C. Bajan in 1676, infra. Founded in 1701 the professorship of Medicine: see Vol. I., p. 381.)

1712. George Keith, tenth and last Earl Marischal.

Attainted 1715-16; died (unmarried) at Potsdam, 28th May, 1778. Two portraits in possession of University. (Dict. Nat. Biog. Jacobite Attempt of 1719, Edin., 1895. The Theses of 1708 are dedicated "domino de Keith, celsissimi ac magnanimi herois D. Gulielmi Comitis Marischalli filio primogenito"; those of 1714, "potentissimo heroi comiti Marischallo". The last of the Earls graduated M.A. of his ancestral college in 1712, his younger brother, James, afterwards Marshal Keith, taking the same degree three years later: infra. As to the present representatives of the Earls Marischal, compare the genealogical trees on pp. 4, 87, with the articles, "The heirs of the Keiths," in Scottish Notes and Queries for May, 1894, and September, 1896, where many authorities are quoted; and with G. E. C.'s Complete Peerage.)

On the attainder of the Earls Marischal, their rights of College patronage passed to the Crown, but the Commissions of Visitation in 1716 and 1717 apparently made no provision for the appointment of a Chancellor. In 1727 we find the College petitioning King George II. to nominate as Chancellor his Majesty's second son, William, aged six, who had been created Duke of Cumberland a month before the date of the Petition.

[1] On 6th January, 1643, George, second Marquis of Huntly, was elected Chancellor of King Charles' University (Vol. I., p. 255); but the Marischal College members absented themselves from the meeting, and refused to recognise the election. (Off. and Grad. of King's Coll., p. 4.)

"Unto the King's Most Excellent Majesty,

"The most humble Petition and Address of the Rector, Principal, Professors and Masters of His Majestie's Marischall University of Aberdeen.

"May it please Your Majestie.

"We, Your Majestie's most dutyfull and loyal subjects, haveing the great honour above all other Universitys in the Nation to be immediately under your Royal Patronage, humbly beg leave to represent that this Your Majestie's University is at great loss by the want of a Chancelour. Wherefor, if it be aggreeable to Your Majestie's Royal Pleasure, we earnestly and unanimously intreat that Your Majestie our Royal Patron would be graciously pleas'd to nominate and constitute His Royal Highness, WILLIAM, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND, Chancelour of this Your University; which will not only signaly honour, but greatly tend to the flourishing thereof. And in evidence of our hearty concurrence, so farr as we are interested, we have presum'd to transmitt a most unanimous commission unto His Royal Highness.

"May God, who has in great mercy to these Kingdoms given Your Majestie peaceable possession of the throne of Your Royal Ancestors, greatly prosper and long preserve Your Majestie with your Royal Consort our Gracious Queen, and all the Royal Branches of Your August Family; by which, under God, the great happyness of these Kingdoms can only be secur'd and transmitted to posterity.

"Given at Your Majestie's College Marischal of Aberdeen, the twenty-eighth day of August, in the first year of Your Majestie's Reign."

"Commission to his highness, William, Duke of Cumberland.

"We, the Rector, Principal, Professors, and Masters of the Marischal University of Aberdeen, takeing into our consideration the great loss this University is at by the want of a Chancelour, and how much it will tend to the honour and flourishing of the same, that some honourable and proper person were elected into the said office, we all did and hereby doe unanimously nominate and elect His Royal Highness the High and Mighty Prince, WILLIAM, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND, Chancelour of this University, which office we most humbly and earnestly intreat His Royal Highness may accept of. And by the tenor of these presents we declare that His Royal Highness shall from henceforth have and enjoy all powers, jurisdiction, and honours which any Chancelour of this University by the Foundation Charter had or might in times past have enjoy'd and exercis'd. Promiseing all subjection and obedience unto His Royal Highness due on our part. In Wittness whereof these present letters haveing the strength of a publick instrument are inscrib'd by us at his Majestie's Marischall College of Aberdeen, this twenty-ninth day of August, one thousand seven hundred and twenty-seven years, and of His Majestie's reign the first year. And for further confirmation we have hereunto appended the great seal of this University.

"Matthew Mackaile, Med. Professor.
"Dav. Verner, P.P.

"Wm. Duff, P.P."

(Marischal College Charter Chest, "Chancellors," 1, 2. The second paper is endorsed :—"This Commission to be in Latine, wrote on parchment and embelish in due form".)

The result of this petition is unknown. The Duke became in 1746 Chancellor of St. Andrews. Kennedy (Annals of Aberdeen, Vol. II., p. 118) gives the Duke of Cumberland as elected Chancellor in 1747, but Kennedy's dates are notoriously inaccurate. See list of Regents, p. 31.

17 ? Archibald Campbell, Earl of Ilay (third Duke of Argyll).

The date of election is not recorded. The duke, an alumnus of the Universities of Glasgow and Utrecht, was created Earl of Ilay in 1706, and succeeded his brother, John, in the dukedom in 1743. In 1716 he was chosen Chancellor of King's College, but "upon weighty motives" did not accept (Off. and Grad., p. 5). Kennedy gives John, Duke of Argyll, as Chancellor in 1754, but his names are only less inaccurate than his dates. Died 15th April, 1761. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1761. John Stuart, third Earl of Bute.

Elected, 25th April, by the Principal and Masters, "taking into consideration that the office of Chancellor of this University is vacant by the death of his Grace the Duke of Argyle". (Minute in new Rectorial Book.) He accepts, 10th August: Latin diploma entered in Minute. 1793. David Murray, second Earl of Mansfield.

B.A., Oxon., 1748; D.C.L., 1793. Elected 19th April. (Rect. Book: Diploma, £2 2s.) Died 1st Sept., 1796. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1796. William Eden, first Baron Auckland.

M.A., Oxon., 1768. Elected 7th November. (Rect. Book: Diploma, £1 1s.)

"Lord Auckland, an English nobleman, who had never even visited Scotland, and was not educated there, was chosen Chancellor solely at the instigation of the Principal, Dr. Brown, whose patron he was, and who had got acquainted with him when holding his Utrecht situation, at which time Auckland was ambassador to the States. The proper Chancellor to have been chosen in 1796 was the Marquis of Huntly, as Professor Copland proposed, and never voted for Lord Auckland. In going after Court patronage, the College fell into a mistake. All the correspondence passed between the Chancellor and Dr. Brown, in letters often not seen by the Faculty. Hence the necessity of the following order: '1811, May 31. Principal Brown to read to the Faculty all letters which he writes in their name, and to lodge copies in the letter book.'—Min." (Knight.) Died 28th May, 1814. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1814. George Gordon, eighth Marquis of Huntly.

Record in Faculty Minute Book, 19th July. Had been called to House of Lords in his father's barony of Gordon, 1807; succeeded as fifth and last Duke of Gordon, 1827. Installed as Chancellor, 22nd December, 1815. (Kennedy's Annals, II., 90. Nobilissimi viri Georgii Marchionis de Huntly Inaugurandi formula atque modus; praecipue Oratio habita a Gulielmo Laurentio Brown, praefecto, Abred., 1816. Ode in Aberdeen Journal, 27th Dec., 1815.) Died 25th May, 1836, when the dukedom became extinct. (Min., 30th June; Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1836. Charles Gordon, fifth Duke of Richmond and Lennox.

Record in Faculty Minute Book, 30th June; installed 2nd Sept. On the union of King's and Marischal Colleges became joint Chancellor (with fourth Earl of Aberdeen) of the University of Aberdeen, 15th Sept., 1860; died 21st October, 1860. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

RECTORS AND DEANS OF FACULTY.[1]

1598. Peter Blackburn, the elder, minister of Aberdeen, Dean of Faculty.

Signs feu charter of date 5th Sept., 1598 (Vol. I., p. 76).

1619. Patrick Dun, doctor of medicine, Rector; William Forbes, doctor of divinity, D. of F.

Present at visitation of the College, 31st December, when an ordinance was made "that the College fees payable by the students to the regents should be conform as they were appointed at a visitation in the King's College, viz.,

[1] For the duties and method of election of the Rector and Dean of Faculty, see the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., pp. 44-58). The Universities (Scotland) Act of 1858, § 10, provided that the Rector of the University of Aberdeen should be elected by the matriculated students "voting according to the present usage in Marischal College". There has thus been preserved in Aberdeen a closer approximation to early academic usage than in the other Scottish Universities, for in Aberdeen alone the Rector is still chosen by four procurators, elected previously by the Nations. In Glasgow the Nations do not elect procurators, but vote directly for the Rector; in St. Andrews the Nations were abolished by Ordinance No. 4 of the 1858 Commission; in Edinburgh they never existed.

"The definition of the Nations given in the Charter does not, in some respects, correspond to what has been long followed in practice. The nation to which foreigners are to be assigned is not mentioned; it has been the custom to add them to the Angusians, or those born south of the Carn o' Month. The word diocesis employed in the Charter evidently indicates the true division. The Abredonensis diocesis is divided into the Marriensis and Buchanensis. Marriensis has Garioch added to it, and comprehends not only the tract between the Dee and the Don, but also Alford, Strathdon, and Garioch, or all to the south of Formartin; it also includes the parishes of Strachan, Banchory-Ternan, Banchory-Devenick, and Maryculter, in the county of Kincardine, but in the diocese of Aberdeen. Buchanensis ought to include Buchan, Formartin, and Strathbogie, or those parts of the Counties of Aberdeen and Banff lying between the Deveron on the West and North, and Mar and Garioch on the South, exclusive of all that part of Scotland not included in the two foregoing divisions, lying to the North of the Mons Grampius (Carn o' Month), which contains the Moraviensis. But as the parishes of Huntly, Gartly, Rhynie and Essie, Glass, and Cairnie were not within the diocese of Aberdeen, they ought to be included in the Moraviensis; and Formartin is by custom taken in with Mar, Buchan being viewed as having the Ythan for its Southern boundary." (Knight, circa 1840.)

The Commissioners recommended a new election, but declined to grant a warrant for holding this on any day other than March 1. On the advice of the Chancellor no new election was held. (Coll. Minutes, Sept. 7, Nov. 7, Dec. 25.) The election proceedings of 1829 were very disorderly. "During nearly an hour amid great clamour and noises of various kinds, short speeches were made by different students. . . . An attempt was made by a considerable number of the students to force their way into the hall where the Senatus were sitting; which attempt was repelled by the Professors." (Minutes.) Hume claimed the right as Rector of the preceding year to have a casting vote, which he proposed to give to his opponent, but the Senatus unanimously disallowed this. Assessors: Basil Fisher, James Hadden, Alexander Bannerman, James Blaikie, advocate, Aberdeen. Moray voted for Sir James McIntosh [sic in Rectorial Minutes, but McGrigor according to Knight]. "Hume not even proposed as a candidate."

1833. Sir Charles Forbes of Newe and Edinglassie, bart.; Duncan Davidson, D. of F.

Assessors, by a majority: Gavin Hadden, lord provost; Alexander Bannerman, M.P.; Rev. Dr. George Forbes of Blelack, Patrick Davidson, advocate. Moray voted for Francis Jeffrey, lord advocate.

1834. Alexander Bannerman, M.P.; James Blaikie, lord provost, D. of F.

Assessors: James Blaikie, Thomas Bannerman, Dean of Guild; Benjamin Williamson, surgeon; Robert Abercrombie, merchant. The procurators claimed to be allowed to vote in the election of Dean of Faculty, but this was disallowed. 1835. John Abercrombie, M.D., Edinburgh; James Blaikie, D. of F.

Assessors: James Blaikie, Basil Fisher of Devanha, James Andrew Sandilands of Cruives, Alexander Jopp, advocate. Mar voted for Alexander Bannerman. Professor Knight again protests. Dr. Abercrombie's Rectorial Address, delivered November 5, on The Culture and Discipline of the Mind, has been frequently reprinted. "The noise very moderate. Next day he gave a dinner to sixty in the Rooms, and afterwards £50 for prizes. On the 8th the Principal and professors accompanied him twice to the College Gallery in the Greyfriars" (Knight). See Letter to the students of Marischal College on the election of Lord Rector, Aberd., 1835. Dr. Abercrombie was M.A. of 1798.

Angry protests against the action of Professors Brown and Lizars, who, when the vote in the Angus Nation was stated to be 17 to 16 in favour of the procurator representing Sir John Herschel, proffered their votes on the side of the minority, although it never was "the custom for professors to vote at the Rectorial elections, the only exception being that of one professor who had given in his suffrage once or twice several years ago".

1843. John, 2nd Marquis of Breadalbane; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

"BRIGHTON, Tuesday Evening, 20th February, 1849.

"SIR,—I beg to assure you that I am very sensible of the feeling which has induced you to propose me as a candidate for the Lord Rectorship of your College, and that I feel much beholden to you for that mark of your regard and consideration.

"But, in reply to your note in which you do me the favour to ask my consent to this nomination, I am constrained to say, without any reservation whatever, that I do not aspire to the high honour in question, and that I must entreat you to withdraw my name at my express desire. I take the earliest opportunity in my power of making this communication to you; but my absence from town for a week past, and my absence from this place during this day, have combined to prevent my answering your letter sooner. It was forwarded here this morning. I am, Sir, yours faithfully and obliged,

"CHARLES DICKENS."

The Rectorial Address, delivered 23rd March, was printed at Aberdeen in 1849, as also an Address, delivered 8th November, at the opening of session 1849-50.

"5 CHEYNE ROW, CHELSEA,
"LONDON, 22 feby, 1850.

"GENTLEMEN,—Your announcement very much surprised me, not surely in an unpleasant way, and I beg in the meantime to thank you very cordially, you and my other young Friends in Aberdeen, for the honour you are doing me. The election to a merely formal office, I suppose, may go in this way or that, without momentous consequences; but the fact that ingenuous young souls in your University, in poor old Scotland far away, are loyally disposed to me, and willing to testify that feeling by such methods as they have—this is already a possession, of a valuable and to me almost of an affecting nature, which I shall not have to part with. With the election itself I must not in the least interfere, for or against. In respect of personally visiting Aberdeen, too, I am constrained to say that travelling is at all times very untowardly to me, and that at present there are some special causes rather detaining me here;—on the whole, that if there be no real duty, but only a formal or ceremonial one, to be done in Aberdeen, I had much better not come, but that if there do appear some real fraction of duty to be done, in the event of my election, I will certainly make an effort to come. More I cannot say at present. And so with many thanks and kind regards, I remain, Gentlemen, your most obedt

"T. CARLYLE.

REGENTS.[1]

16 ? Patrick Gray.

Not in Kennedy's list. Signs assedations to James Menzies, 4th Sept., 1601; and to Alexander Molleson, 14th September, 1601. (Buik of Reg.)[2] Brother of Principal Gilbert Gray. (Dedication to Theses of 1673, infra.)

1602.[3] William Forbes.

Not in Kennedy's list. Stated in Sydserf's Life to have been appointed Professor of Logic (i.e., teacher of the Semi class) soon after his graduation in 1601, and to have taught for four sessions. Mentioned in Aberdeen Presbytery Records, 1st November, 1605; and in Principal Gilbert Gray's Rental of 1606. (Vol. I., p. 107.) Afterwards Principal, p. 28.

1603. Thomas Reid.

Not in Kennedy's list. Demits office of teacher in Grammar School on appointment as Regent, 12th October, 1603. (T. C. Reg., xli., 415.) Afterwards Secretary "for the Latine tongue" to James VI., and a benefactor to the College Library. (Vol. I., p. 194.) Portrait in possession of the University is reproduced in Vol. I., and in the great window, Mitchell Hall, Mar. Coll. A detailed list of Reid's writings will be found in the present editor's notice in Dict. Nat. Biog. See also Scottish N. and Q., IX., 145, 161.

[1] Three in number by the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., p. 42); a fourth was added in 1620, when the Principal ceased to teach the highest class (p. 186). Originally the regents were professors in the modern sense (p. 64), but this system was abandoned about 1642. (Cf. Off. and Grad., p. 315.) It was, however, resumed in 1753, infra. No record of presentation to regencies is extant before 1679: the earlier names have been collected from various sources, and the list is obviously imperfect. Kennedy gives 29 regents, "with the dates of their several admissions," from 1593 to 1676, but at least 25 of his 29 dates are wrong! A table showing the sequence of teaching is attempted in the Appendix.

[2] When a name is stated to appear anywhere, what is implied is that it is mentioned as being that of a Regent.

[3] "[Andrew] Young, having graduated in Edinburgh, had gone to serve as regent in Marischal College, which was always a good School of Mathematics. . . . He came back to Edinburgh as regent in 1601." Sir Alexander Grant (Story of the Univ. of Edinb., II., 293), quoting from Professor Chrystal's Inaugural Address. Dr. Chrystal writes that he cannot recall his authority for this statement. "Marischal" is probably a slip for "King's". (Cf. Off. and Grad., p. 53.)

16 ? Andrew Keith.

Not in Kennedy's list. Mentioned in Reg. Priv. Coun., Vol. VII., p. 677, 10th June, 1607.

16 ? Patrick Dun.

Not in Kennedy's list. Mentioned, 1610, as Professor of Logic in MS. C² 3. 70, University Library. Probably succeeded Forbes in his chair, as he afterwards (1621) did in the Principalship, p. 28.

16 ? William Gray.

Not in Kennedy's list. Signs assedation to John Leslie, 13th November, 1613. (Buik of Reg.) Bajan, 1605.

16 ? Peter Blackburn.

Mentioned in T. C. Reg., xlvii., 487, 15th March, 1616, together with John Ross and Adam Reid. Kennedy gives Peter Blackburn, John Row, and David Reid as regents in 1593. This is manifestly a group of blunders. (Cf. Kennedy's MS. Index to the T. C. Reg., s.v. "College".) Peter Blackburn, afterwards Bishop of Aberdeen, signs the Foundation Charter as a witness in 1593, and is Dean of Faculty in 1598, p. 10, but there is no proof that he acted as Regent. He died 14th June, 1616. Author (acc. to Scott's Fasti) of a Treatise against James Gordon the Jesuit. The Regent of 1616 seems to have been his son (Spald. Club Misc., Vol. V., p. 140; and Retours of Services of Heirs, 17th July, 1616), who appears as a Semi of 1605, and died in 1619. (Retours, 30th November, 1619.)

16 ? Adam Reid.

Ut supra. Given by Kennedy under 1619, in which year he was promoted from a regency to be Minister of Methlic. He was younger brother of Secretary Reid above mentioned. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1609.

16 ? John Ross.

Ut supra; and signs appointment of a Liddell Bursar, 3rd June, 1616. (Buik of Reg.) Semi, 1605.

1616. John Gordon.

Not in Kennedy's list. Must have succeeded Blackburn, as (together with John Ross and Adam Reid) he signs assedation to Patrick Symmers, December, 1616. See also letter from the laird of Drum. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Bursaries," XXIII., 1.) Mentioned (with Reid) in precept of warning against Menzies, 3rd April, 1617; and (with Reid and Massie) in decreet against Menzies, 29th June, 1619. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. Mass II., Nos. 42, 47.) Bajan, 1609.

16 ? George Chalmers.

"Mr. George Chalmers, Minister at Dumbennan, burges of this burght, and sumtyme one of the Ministers thairof and regent in the said College." (T. C. Reg., xlix., 418, 27th October, 1619.) Kennedy, misinterpreting this entry, gives George Chalmers as regent in 1619. It is remarkable that no such name occurs in the list of incumbents of Aberdeen charges given in Scott's Fasti. (Cf. P. H. Chalmers' Mem. of Information.)

16 ? Andrew Massie.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1623, but is mentioned in decreet against Menzies, 1619. Signs as "Logicae Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Semi class), two Epitaphs in the Lachrymae sub Obitum Georgii Comitis Mariscalli, Abred., 1623; and 6th April, 1626 (together with Ogston, Sibbald, and Wedderburn), an assedation to David Anderson. (Buik of Reg.) Andrew Massie is named as Oeconomus in a Burgh Court Decree of 19th February, 1622. By the Foundation Charter the Oeconomus was an official distinct from the Regents. James Forbes of Tulliboy was appointed first Oeconomus, 18th June, 1593. (T. C. Reg., xxxiv., 854.) Massie and Sibbald are made burgesses, "ex gratia," 25th Oct., 1623. (New Spald. Cl. Misc., I.) Bajan, 1610.

1619. William Ogston.

Not in Kennedy's list. Appointed in 1619, as in 1626, when he is transferred to the Semi class, it is stated that he has taught the Tertians "thir sewin yeeris bygane". In the latter year (apparently succeeding Andrew Massie), he received a presentation to the Logic professorship, "the key of the whole College and the courss throf verie long and thairfoir requyring ane learned diligent and cairfull maister to teach the same . . . quhairin if he should be found to be deficient and after due admoni⁰nis not amending then and in that caice the said Mr. William to be bound . . . to demit the said second class absolutelie and to tak him to the third class". (Min. of Admission, 25th October, 1626. Mar. Coll. Ch., Ch. "Professorships," No. 1.) Designated "Philosophiae Moralis Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Tertian class) on the title-page of his Oratio Funebris in Obitum Georgii Mariscalli Comitis, Abred., 1623; and 6th April, 1626, signs the assedation to David Anderson. Promoted to be minister of Hailes, 1635. (Hist. of Ogston Families.) Semi, 1605. D.D.

1620. James Sibbald.

M.A., 1618. Signs as "Philosophiae Naturalis Professor," an Epitaph in the Lachrymae, also the assedation to David Anderson, 1626. The Professor of Natural Philosophy taught the Magistrand class, and Sibbald was the first holder of the office of fourth regent, instituted 1st March, 1620, when the newly appointed Principal, William Forbes, was relieved from the duty of teaching. Kennedy gives 1619 as the date of Sibbald's appointment, but this is certainly wrong. Graduation theses maintained under his presidency are extant for the years 1623 (Abd. Univ. Libr.), 1625 (Bodl.), 1626 (Bodl.). In the last of these years he was appointed one of the Ministers of Aberdeen. B.D., King's Coll., 1627; D.D., 1628. Sibbald was one of the "Aberdeen Doctors". In addition to his graduation theses, he contributed a Sermon to Forbes' Funerals and wrote Diverse Select Sermons, printed posthumously at Aberdeen in 1658. (Scott's Fasti; Forbes' Funerals, ed. 1845.)

16 ? William Wedderburn.

Signs as "Graecarum Literarum Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Bajan class), verses in the Lachrymae and the Theses of 1623; also the assedation to David Anderson, 1626. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Bethelny, not later than 1633. (Scott's Fasti.) He was brother of David Wedderburn, the Rector of the Grammar School (Abd. and Bff. Coll., p. 60), and Alexander Wedderburn.

1626. John Seton.

M.A., 1616. Succeeded Sibbald in 1626 (Kennedy says 1636) as Professor of Natural Philosophy. As such, signs (together with Gordon, Aidie, and Ray) a Rectorial minute, 14th April, 1632 (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Rectors," 2); and (with the same three) is mentioned in a summons raised by Sir A. Irvine of Drum, 1633. Graduation theses maintained under his presidency are extant for the years 1627 (Bodl.), 1630 (Bodl.), 1631 (Abd.), 1634 (Bodl.), 1637 (Bodl.). Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Kemnay, not later than 1641. (Scott's Fasti.)

16 ? Hugh Gordon.

M.A., 1623. Not in Kennedy's list. Writes assedation to A. Burnet, 12th July, 1630. (Buik of Reg.) Signs as Professor of Logic the Rectorial minute, and is mentioned in summons ut supra. See also Diary of Alexander Jaffray, p. 15.

163 ? William Aidie.

M.A., 1625. Not in Kennedy's list. Succeeded Wedderburn. Signs as Professor of Greek the Rectorial minute; also two Epitaphs in the Lachrymae in Obitum Wilhelmi Comitis Marischalli, Abred., 1635. Appears as witness to a Sasine in 1644. (Burgh Reg. of Sasines.)

163 ? John Ray.

M.A., 1625. Given by Kennedy under year 1641; but signs as Professor of Moral Philosophy (i.e., teacher of the tertian class), the Rectorial minute; also an Epitaph in the second Lachrymae, 1635; and a discharge of College accounts, 1st November, 1648. The Graduation theses of 1643, maintained under his presidency, are extant in the University Library; so that ere then the system of specialist professors must have been abandoned, and that of circulating regents introduced. Editor of Cicero's Epistolarum libri IV., Abred., 1630, 1665. "He made an excellent funeral Oration on King Charles the Martyr." (Cat. Scot. Writ. Spald., II., 142.)

163 ? William Blackhall.

M.A., 1631. Not in Kennedy's list. Signs as Professor of Logic an Epitaph in the second Lachrymae, 1635. Evidently succeeded Hugh Gordon. Deposed as a Catholic, 1642. (Spald., II., 102. Gordon's Scots Aff., III., 129.)

16 ? James Hay.

Given by Kennedy under year 1636. But Aidie, Blackhall, Ray, and Seton were then still in office. Tertian, 1618 [?].

16 ? John Menzies.

Promoted from a regency to the chair of Divinity, infra, and the second ministerial charge in Aberdeen, 1649, and to the incumbency of Greyfriars Church in the following year. Kennedy gives his name under the year 1633, but this cannot be correct, as in 1635-37 the four regencies were undoubtedly held by Aidie, Blackhall, Ray, and Seton. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1638 [?].

16 ? Andrew Youngson.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1645, but this is certainly wrong, for on 4th Oct., 1644, " Mr. Andrew Youngson, formerly a Regent in the Mar. Coll.," is elected a Regent at King's College. (Off. and Grad., p. 56.) He " afterwards became a Papist and Jesuit, and a Professor at Madrid ". (Knight.) He must have succeeded either Blackhall or Seton. " He wrote De Predestinatione." (Cat. Scot. Writ.) Bajan, 1635.

164 ? Patrick Sandilands.

M.A., King's Coll., 1643. Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1646, but the date is almost certainly wrong, for on 24th June of that year he is transferred to the Regency in King's College, vacated by Youngson. (Off. and Grad.) Afterwards Sub-Principal there : Theses of 1660 (Bodl.). (Morgan's Woodside, p. 159.)

164 ? Robert Forbes.

M.A., King's Coll., 1643. Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1656; but signs discharges of College accounts (together with John Ray, Robert Burnet, and James Chalmers), 1st November, 1648; and is mentioned in Buik of Reg. as having charge of Bajan class of 1648-49. His name appears (with those of Andrew Cant, Alexander Whyte, and George Meldrum) in sundry charters granted by the Caroline University, 1655-58; and (with William Meldrum, George Bannerman, and Thomas Paterson) he signs a tack to Marjory Jameson, 26th June, 1663. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. Mass. XII., 69.) He is named (with the same three) in a decreet against Mitchell, 2nd Feb., 1664. On 24th October of that year he appears as a Regent at King's College, and is subsequently Canonist there. (Off. and Grad., p. 57.) Mar. Coll. Theses, 1656 (Bodl.), 1660 (Abd.); King's Coll. Theses, 1680, 1684. " He wrote a Logick Course of Philosophy." (Cat. Scot. Writ.)

164 ? Robert Burnet.

Not in Kennedy's list. Signs College accounts, 1648, ut supra. "Continovit comoun procurator to Lambes 1650." Bajan, 1637.

164 ? James Chalmers.

M.A., King's Coll., 1645. Not in Kennedy's list. Signs College accounts, 1648, ut supra. This is the James Chalmers stated in Scott's Fasti (III., 508) to have been promoted in 1651 from a Regency in King's College to be Minister of New Machar. No such name occurs in the list of Regents of King's College. (Off. and Grad., p. 56.)

164 ? Andrew Cant.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1655; but is mentioned in the Buik of Reg. as having charge of the Magistrand class in 1649-50; and in charters of 1651-58. Theses for 1654 (Bodl.), and 1658 (Abd.). " He wrote a Physical Course of Philosophy, also De libero arbitrio." (Cat. Scot. Writ.) Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Liberton in 1659 (Scott's Fasti), and Principal of the University of Edinburgh in 1675 (Grant's Story). This was the son of the famous Andrew. He matriculated at Marischal College in 1640, infra. Joseph Robertson says of him (Deliciae Literariae, p. 25): "He lived to become a non-juring bishop". But the bishop was a third Andrew, son of the Regent's brother, Alexander. (Grub's Eccl. Hist., III., 387.)

16 ? Andrew Birnie.

Not in Kennedy's list. Signs feu charter to Walter Robertson, May, 1651; and an entry in T. C. Reg., lii., 372, 2nd February, 1653. Named in Accounts of 1652-53. Bajan, 1645.

165 ? Alexander White.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1655; but signs Charter to Walter Robertson, 1651, and entry in T. C. Reg., 1653; also sundry charters of 1655-58; and a list of books added in 1662 (Buik of Reg.). Theses for 1657 (Bodl.). (Geneal. Acct. of James Young, p. 192.) Bajan, 1646.

165 ? George Meldrum.

Succeeded Birnie. Signs charters in 1655-58. Theses for 1659 (Abd.). In that year he was promoted to be Minister of the second charge in Aberdeen. (Scott's Fasti.) Rector of Mar. Coll., p. 12. Professor of Divinity in the University of Edinburgh. (Grant's Story.) He published numerous Letters and Sermons in Edinburgh. Bajan, 1647.

16 ? John White [?].

Given by Kennedy under year 1660.

1660. William Meldrum.

M.A., 1654. Appears as Common Procurator in 1660. Signs list of books, 1662, and tack to Marjory Jameson, 1663. Named in decreet against Mitchell, 1664. Present at Rectorial Election, March, 1665. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Auchterless, not later than 1671. (Scott's Fasti.)

166 ? George Bannerman.

M.A., King's Coll., 1659. Not in Kennedy's list. Named in Accounts, 1661. Present at Rectorial Election, March, 1665. A George Bennean is (with W. Paterson, A. Alexander, and R. Bruce) present at election of a bibliothecar on 5th March, 1667. (Copy of Min. in Burgh Ch. Ch., "College," C². 7.) The name is probably a slip for Bannerman.

166 ? Thomas Paterson.

M.A., 1658. Not in Kennedy's list. Signs tack to Marjory Jameson. Named in decreet against Mitchell.

1663. Patrick Strachan.

Not in Kennedy's list. Presented to a regency in 1663, in succession to Robert Forbes, who nevertheless appears as a regent in 1664. Signs demission of office, 16th November, 1665, all differences between him and Principal Leslie being referred to Archbishop Sharp. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Professorships," Nos. 4, 7, 8.) On 1st August of that year he had been condemned at a Rectorial Court for issuing "heterodox and profane theses . . . qlk became no christiane nor civill mane to mantaine, they altogether reflecting upon the fame of the Universitie, and being ane open floodget to murder, drunkenness and idolatrie". (Buik of Reg.) Bajan, 1657.

1664. John Gordon.

M.A., 1658. Not in Kennedy's list. Adm. in Accts., 1664-65. In 1664, Patrick Strachan complains that Gordon, "servant to Sir Robert Farquhar," has been admitted regent "in lew of the petitioner, being neither cited heard nor advertised of ther procedour much less sentenced or censured," and is "endeavouring in a most subdolous way to intrude himself in the place whereof the petitioner is yet in possession". (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Professorships," No. 4.) Present at Rectorial election, March, 1665.

1664. William Paterson.

Not in Kennedy's list. Adm. in Accts, 1664-65. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1665; and at election of bibliothecar, 5th March, 1667. In that year appointed to a regency in Edinburgh. Clerk to the Privy Council, 1679. (Dalziel's Hist.) Bajan, 1659.

166 ? Alexander Alexander.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1668, but present at election of bibliothecar, 5th March, 1667. Theses for 1669 (Abd.). Present at Rectorial elections in March, 1673, and March, 1674, but not 1675. Became Minister of Glass, 1679. (Scott's Fasti; Roger's House of Alexander.) Bajan, 1660.

166 ? Robert Bruce.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1668, but present at election of bibliothecar, 1667; also at Rectorial elections in 1673 and 1674, but not 1675. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Old Deer not later than 1676 (Scott's Fasti), probably in 1674, for in July of that year his place as a regent had been taken by John Farquhar. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Librarian". Cf. Nos. 4 and 6.) He is called "late regent" in an Instrument, Seaton divinity student agt. the Magistrates, 2nd July, 1674. (Burgh Ch. Ch. "College," C^2. 7.) Bajan, 1661.

1667. Thomas Gray.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1668; but is named as teacher of Bajan class, 1667, in Buik of Reg. Theses for 1673 (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch.). He is stated in them to be a grandson of Principal Gilbert Gray. He was present at the Rectorial election of that year, but not in 1674. It would appear from a paper in the Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. ("Professorships," No. 5) that Gray taught the first class for three successive sessions, and thereafter "ascended" in the usual manner. The same Thos. Gray, "son to the deceased Provost Gray," acted as College Librarian in 1669-73. (T. C. Reg., lv., 158, 526.) Bajan, 1660.

1667. Robert Paterson.

Given by Kennedy under year 1669, but probably succeeded William Paterson in 1667. Teacher of Bajan class, 1671. (Buik of Reg.) Present at Rectorial elections, 1673 and 1674. Promoted to the Principalship, p. 28, 20th November, 1678, when he was succeeded by James Lorimer. Paterson was a younger son of John, Bishop of Ross. (Nisbet's Heraldry.) Bajan, 1661.

16 ? John Lorimer [?].

Given by Kennedy under year 1672; but this must be a blunder, as Alexander, Bruce, Gray, and R. Paterson were in office during that year.

1673. George Peacock.

Given by Kennedy under year 1675, but seems to have succeeded Gray. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1674. Teacher of Bajan class, 1673-74. (Buik of Reg.) Children: James, Mary, Elizabeth. (Poll Book of 1695.) Theses, 1689 (Bodl.), 1693 (Bodl.), 1697 (Glasg.), 1714 (Bodl.). Deprived of office in the political troubles, 1717, when he was succeeded by Patrick Hardie. Bajan, 1666.

1674. John Farquhar.

Given by Kennedy under year 1669, but this is manifestly a blunder, as he succeeded Robert Bruce, probably in 1674. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1675, and (with William Seaton) homologates Paterson's election as Librarian, in May of same year. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Librarian," No. 9.) Minister of Tron Church, Edinburgh, 1677. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1664.

1674. William Seaton.

Not in Kennedy's list. Succeeded Alexander Alexander, probably in 1674. Named in an Instrument, Magistrates agt. Seaton, 19th January, 1675. (Burgh Ch. Ch. "College," C^2. 7.) Bajan, 1667.

1675. Robert Farquhar.

Given by Kennedy under year 1676, but signs Charter to Burgh, 9th September, 1675 ("Mortifications," ii., 13). Succeeded John Farquhar. Present at Rectorial elections, 1679 and 1680. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Cullen, 1681 (Scott's Fasti), when he was succeeded by Thomas Burnett. Semi, 1665.

1675. John Patton.

M.A., 1669. Given by Kennedy under year 1676, but signs Charter to Burgh, 1675. Succeeded William Seaton. Present at Rectorial elections in 1679 and 1680. Taught Bajan class, 1680-81. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Leochel, 1682 (Scott's Fasti), when he was succeeded by Alexander Litster.

1679, Jan. 16. James Lorimer, student of theologie.

In place of Robert Paterson, promoted to be Principal. Lorimer's is the first appointment of a regent recorded in the "Register of presentationes and admissiones of all principalles and maisteres". The letter of presentation by George, eighth Earl Marischal, dated 15th January, is engrossed. The appointment is "for this present yeir of God underwritten and yeirlie in tyme coming during our pleasure and ay and quhill we shall declair his charge vaccant by writt under our own hand and the samen be intimat to him". The admitters are: Principal Robert Paterson, Regents George Peacock, John Patton, Robert Farquhar, Professor Duncan Liddell, Mr. Patrick Sibbald, parson of St. Nicholas, and Mr. Robert Bruce, minister at Old Deer. Bajan, 1670.

1681, October 27. Thomas Burnet, master of airts.

In place of Robert Farquhar, demitted. Promoted to a regency in Edinburgh, 1686, as a reward for representing (in Theses printed at Aberdeen in that year) the Reformation as a villainous rebellion, and asserting that the King of Scotland had the power of making and abrogating laws and imposing taxes without the consent of Parliament. In 1690, because of the very same Theses, he was deprived of his regency by the Commission of Visitation. (Minutes of Commn. in Reg. Ho.; Fountainhall's Decisions; Presbyterian Inquisition in Univ. of Edin.) Bajan, 1673.

1682, October 3. Alexander Litster, student of theologie.

In place of John Patton, demitted. Demitted 1693. Children: John, Alexander, Francis, Marjorie, Elizabeth (Poll Book). Bajan, 1667.

1683, July 25. Robert Keith, student of theologie.

"Sone to the deceist doctor William Keith, professor of theologie in Edinburghe." In place of James Lorimer. Theses, 1687 (Bodl.). For a reference to this Keith, see Fountainhall's Scottish Affairs, p. 248, where he is designated "of Lentosh". Bajan, 1668.

1686,[1] November 1. James Moir, student in divinitie.

"Lawfull sone to James Moir in Ferrihill." In place of Thomas Burnet, removed to the College of Edinburgh. Children: Agnes, Jean (Poll Book). Died 1713. Bajan, 1674.

1688, March 29. Alexander Moir, student of divinitie.

"Brother german to James Moir of Stoniewood." In place of Robert Keith. "A gentleman of great erudition and primitive simplicity of manners." "No wife, child, nor servant" (Poll Book). Theses, 1699 (Bodl.). Deprived in 1717. He went to Edinburgh, and kept a private Academy for sons of Jacobite nobility and gentry for several years. (Lettsom's Life, I.; Nichols' Lit. Anecd., I.; Family of Moir and Byres.) Tertian, 1684.

1693, December 5. William Smith.

Governour then to Charles Lord Hay. In place of Alexander Litster, demitted. "No wife, child, nor servant" (Poll Book). Author of the Oratio in qua inclytae Academiae Marischallanae Abredonensis Nobilissimus Parens, Illustres Maecenates et Eximii Benefactores ad annum MDCXCVI commemorantur, Abred., 1701—so often quoted in Vol. I. Theses 1700, 1704, 1708 (Aberd.), and 1712 (Glasg.). Deprived in 1717.

1713, March 2. George Keith.

M.A., 1700. "Son to Sir William Keith of Ludquhairn, baronett." In place of James Moir, lately deceased. Summoned before the Presbytery of [1] Kennedy has a John Keith, under this date, who does not appear in the Register; and Douglas (Peerage, ed. of 1813, II. p., 190) speaks of a "Professor Thomas Keith of the Marischal College"—equally unknown. See Scottish N. and Q., Jan. 1897.

Aberdeen, 27th Jan., 1714, for adultery with Anne Davidson, a married woman. Refused to appear, and was pronounced contumacious. On 10th November, his name was put on the roll of excommunicated persons. (Presb. Min.) This seems to have entailed loss of his regency.

1715, November 30. William Meston.

M.A., 1698. "Late Governour to the honourable Mr. James Keith brother german to the Earle Marischal." In place of George Keith, "lately removed from the said office". Several of the admitters were absent "by reason of the disorders of the times". Meston gave "a publick oration and a specimen in the Greek tongue". Deprived in 1717, he seems never to have actually taught, for in session 1715-16 "the Colledge was separat before the Lawes were read or the season of payment come" (Coll. Proc. Accts.), and in 1716, no classes assembled; but in 1729 he obtained from the Town Council payment of salary for period from Whitsunday, 1715, to Martinmas, 1716: £82 10s. Scots (T. C. Reg., lx., 85). The notice of Meston in Dict. Nat. Biog. is incorrect in several details. Cf. the sketch of him (by the present editor) in N. and Q., 7, X., 21, where a bibliography is attempted. Introduced in Allardyce's Balmoral.

1717, Sept. 30. Patrick Hardie.

In place of George Peacock, deprived. The King's commissions bear that each regent is to hold office "during all the dayes of his naturall life". Hardie died 1724.

1717, September 30. David Verner.

In place of Alexander Moir, deprived. Had studied law in Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow. Created LL.D. (p. 95), and in 1724 appointed to lecture on law. Theses, 1721 (Westburn), 1730 (Glasg.). Died 1752, aged 64. (Aberd. Journal, 28th Jan., 1752; Bower's Life of Beattie.) 1717, September 30. John Anderson.

In place of William Meston, deprived. Second son of Alexander Anderson of Bourtie. M.A., King's Coll., 1700. Died 1721.

1717, September 30. George Cruden.

In place of William Smith, deprived. Bajan, 1712. Died 1723.

1721, April 14. George Turnbull.

In place of John Anderson, deceased. Theses, 1726 (Aberd.). Author of Moral and Christian philosophy, Lond. 1740; Universal law, Lond. 1741; Collection of ancient paintings, Lond. 1744. LL.D., 1727, in which year he demitted office. See p. 95.

1723, September 6. Thomas Haddow, professor of Greek.

In place of George Cruden, deceased. This is the first mention in the Register of a regent allocated to the teaching of Greek. The Parliamentary Commission of Visitation appointed in 1690 had in 1700 issued an ordinance in the following terms:—

"At Edinburgh, the 16th day of August, 1700 years, the commissioners appointed by act of parliament for visitation of universities, colleges, and schools taking to their consideration that it would conduce much to the better learning, and for the improvement of the study of the Greek tongue, that the teacher of the same in the first of the four classes in use for Greek and philosophy in each university and college were fixed, and not ambulatory as now he is; do therefore appoint and ordain that hereafter the said teacher of the Greek tongue be fixed, and continue still to teach the same in the said first class to all that shall come to learn under him from year to year, as constant master of the said Greek language, which he is hereby appointed to begin to teach at and after the first day of November through the whole year, untill the rising of the class by the ordinary vacation; so that in all that space he is to teach only the Greek grammar and proper Greek authors, without teaching so much as any Structura Syllogismi, or any thing else belonging to the course of philosophy, which is only to be commenced the next year thereafter; and this act and ordinance to take effect after the first of November next. Likeas, for the encouragement of the said fixed teacher of the Greek, it is hereby appointed that no scholar bred at schools in Scotland shall be admitted to learn philosophy, or any part of the course thereof, in any of the colleges and universities, unless that he have learned his Greek, at least for the ordinary year under the said fixed Greek master, and report an authentic certification thereon; and this provision to take effect for and after the year 1701, and no sooner. And for the better executing this act it is farther enacted, that if there be at present any vacancy of any of the four ordinarily called masters or professors of philosophy in any of the said colleges and universities, the same shall be supplied in the ordinary manner by a fixed Greek master, who is to remain as said is, leaving the other three to ascend with their philosophy classes as use is; and where there is no vacancy, the said fixed Greek master is for this time to be chosen by the faculty (that is the meeting of the rector, the professors and masters of each of the said colleges and universities) out of the masters, as the said faculty shall determine, which they are hereby ordained to do betwixt and the first day of October next. And the Greek master that shall be chosen hereby is ordained to obey without reclaiming, with this provision nevertheless for his encouragement, that it shall be in his option, upon any vacancy that happens of any of the said three philosophy masters in his college or university, to betake himself to his place without any new trial; in which case the vacancy of the Greek master shall be supplied by one to be fixed as above. And the commission ordain letters and charges to be direct on this act as effeirs, and that the same be furthwith printed and sent to the several universities and colleges, that none may pretend ignorance."

On 26th February, 1701, the Principal and Regents wrote to the Clerk of the Commission:—"We did lykwayes give tymous obedience to the Act for settling ane Greek Master in the Colledges, and did nominate and elect Master Alexander Moir on of the Regents of this Colledge, to be ane fixed Greek Professor in all tyme coming, who has accepted that office in this Colledge. We do therfor intreat ye will represent this matter of fact to the Visitation, when they do take ane revieu of this matter, and show how readie compliance we have given heerin." (Records of Visitation in Gen. Reg. Ho.)

This appointment was sanctioned by the Commission, 14th January, 1702; but it appears not to have become operative, for the Album shows Alexander Moir in charge of the Magistrand class in sessions 1702-3, and 1706-7, as would have been the case under the old four-year cycle. When the four new regents were appointed in 1717, their commissions were in identical terms, but seemingly Cruden (whom Haddow is said to succeed) must soon thereafter have been set aside for the duties of a Greek chair. The admission on 8th Oct., 1717, of Matthew McKaile to the Professorship of Medicine (p. 55) he signs "Geo. Cruden, P[hilosophiae] P[rofessor]"; but the admission, on 14th April, 1721, of George Turnbull to a regency (p. 40) he signs "Geo. Cruden, L[iterarum] G[raecarum] P[rofessor]". If Cruden became Professor of Greek soon after 1717, a three-year cycle would have been set up for the other three Regents. See "Sequence of the Regents," Appx.

Haddow must have died soon after admission. He held a certificate "of good life and conversation" from Mr. John Cormack, minister of the Gospel, St. Andrews.

1723, December 13. Thomas Blackwell, professor of Greek.

In place of Haddow, deceased. Became also Principal in 1748, p. 29.

1724, Oct. 15. Daniel Gordon.

Student of theology, St. Andrews. In place of Patrick Hardie, deceased. Died 1729.

1727, July 25. William Duff.

In place of George Turnbull, demitted. Son of Hugh Duff, minister of Fearn, Ross-shire (Wimberley's Hosp. of Invss.), and M.A., King's Coll., 1721. Theses, 1732 (Aberd.).

In 1734 Duff had a lawsuit with his colleague, Thomas Blackwell. On Sunday, 7th January, "betwixt the hours of 2 and 3, in the College Church, during Divine Service, he jostled and pressed violently on Mr. Blackwell". Next day, when Blackwell was teaching in the Bajan Class, Duff sent William Fowler, sacrist, "to desire him to come out and speak to a gentleman," and struck him on the head with a staff which he had provided on purpose, "having come without his gown, which he had put off for that effect". Blackwell presented a "Complaint and Libell unto the Revd. Principll and Masters met in faculty," which Duff requested time to answer; but the latter passed from one delay to another, and finally advocated the case to Edinburgh, on the plea that the Masters had no jurisdiction, and that two of their number had malice against him. It was agreed, however, to submit the matter to the Principal and Mr. Forbes, Sheriff Depute of Aberdeen, who settled it by a Decreet-Arbitral. A minute of Faculty was prepared in draft, in which Duff was to acknowledge the jurisdiction of the College, ask pardon for attacking its privileges, and receive a rebuke from the Principal. He was at first fully satisfied with this, and showed much impatience to have a meeting held, where it should be approved; but on this being done he refused to submit, and insisted upon his Bill of Advocation. The outcome of the proceedings has not been traced—(Mem. for Duff, 21st February; Pet. of Duff, 24th February; Answ. for Blackwell, 25th February; Answ. for Prin. and other Masters, 23rd July—printed papers in Town House Charter Room).

At a meeting of Faculty, held on 9th February, 1736, Duff is charged with neglect of duty and "with quarrelling upon slight and trivial occasions with one Master after the other, and raising litigious and expensive lawsuits, and with instigating the students to illegal and hurtful proceedings and undutiful conduct to their masters". At Christmas vacation he had to go to Edinburgh, and did not return till 6th January (the vacation ending on the 1st); neglected his duty as Hebdomader; refused to preside at the public disputes; and on 3rd February again went to Edinburgh, appointing an assistant without asking leave of the College. Blackwell states that he had raised criminal actions against all his colleagues, and calls him "that strange unhappy man".

1st March, 1736.—Duff protests in violent language, styling the minute of 9th February "a pretended calumnious unsigned lybel," of which a copy was refused him.

10th March, 1737.—At a Rectorial meeting the Principal informs the Court that he has, with advice and consent of the Faculty, given to Regent Duff two admonitions for neglect of duty and other irregularities. The Court authorise the Principal to give him forthwith the third and last admonition, in terms of the Foundation Charter.

At subsequent meetings evidence is given of Duff's non-attendance at College for two years: Drs. Campbell and Glennie, then students, being among the witnesses. On 20th January, 1738, sentence of expulsion is formally pronounced, Duff being "extruded forth and from the said University and Marischall College, and his said office and employment declared void and vacant and at his Majesty's gift and disposal as patron of the foresaid University". (Papers in Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Rectors and Rectorial Courts".)

Duff went to London, where he published The Case of William Duff, Professor of Philosophy in the Marischal University of Aberdeen; Showing the Barbarous Treatment of an Honest Family, 1739; and A History of Scotland, Vol. I. (all pubd.) 1750 (with author's portrait).

1729, Novemb. 25. Dr. Matthew McKail.

Previously Professor of Medicine, p. 55. In place of Daniel Gordon, deceased. Some objection seems to have been taken to the admission of McKail, as only three admitters sign. He delivers a discourse "On the connexion and difference betwixt the atomic or Copernican and the Newtonian philosophy". Died 1733.

1734, March 26. Francis Skene.

Son of George Skene, minister of Kinkell (Skene Memorials). M.A. King's Coll., 1721. In place of McKail, on whose death it had been proposed to revert to the plan of the Founder, and assign the three higher classes to particular masters, Verner to take the semis, Duff the magistrands, and McKail's successor the tertians. But Skene petitioned against this (Min. of 28th June), and his objections were sustained. When the new plan was adopted in 1753, he was assigned the Semis Class. LL.D., 1766, when he is also made "Professor of Laws" (cf. Min. of 26th Nov., 1760). Died 1775. Portrait in possession of University.

1739, April 10. Alexander Innes.

Great grandson of David Gregory of Kinnairdie (Off. and Grad., p. 37). M.A., 1732. Had acted as substitute during William Duff's absence, sessions 1736-7, 1737-8, 1738-9. After Duff's deposition on 20th January, 1738, the Rector, Principal and Masters appear to have pressed Innes' claims on the Chancellor, Lord Ilay, but without effect until January, 1739, when he recommends them to apply to the Duke of Newcastle. This they do, 19th January, calling his attention to "the melancholy situation of our Colledge"; but at the same time resolve "to fix a Program to the College and kirk doors [cf. Vol. I., p. 45] within a few days in order to secure their privilidges". The Duke "making farther delays and offsets," they resolve, 2nd March, to act on the program, and seek the concurrence of the Magistrates in case the election should be called in question. On 19th March, the edict is duly "called," but no candidates appear, and they intimate to Lord Ilay that they have put off the election till 10th April, hoping to hear from him. On that day, having no letter, they elect Mr. Innes. It is claimed that this is competent, from there having been no presentation notified, although a year had elapsed since the vacancy had been intimated to the Crown, from no answer to letters having been received, from the loss sustained by the College in wanting a Regent, and from the terms of the Foundation Charter. Lord Ilay writes on 23rd April that he had received the communication of 7th March on 20th April. "It seems instead of sending it by the Post, it came by somebody who took France in his way." He chides the Faculty for not transmitting to Government a regular copy of the proceedings against Duff, wonders "a learned body did not better apprehend the meaning of such notification," and send the causes of deposition, instead of writing, "in no other stile than if Duff had been dead". The Crown ought to have known the whole, as a mark of respect, the office being one for life. Duff, he adds, "has been a considerable time about town making a noise in all the offices and in every place where he could have access". After this scolding, Lord Ilay becomes kinder, and says that he has taken their part, and told everybody that "Duff's long stay in this London and the unaccountable turn of his temper made it highly probable that the Faculty had done nothing but justice". Blackwell's reply is a humble palinode, requesting a presentation for Innes. It does not appear that this was ever sent.

We learn from a Memorial to the Barons of the Exchequer that Innes "was so generous as to permit the emoluments of the class [1736-39] to go to the support of Mr. Duff's unhappy relinquished family". He died in 1742. (Coll.

Min.; Papers in Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Rectors"; Alexis, a pastoral to the memory of Alexander Innes, Aberd., 1744.)

1742, Sept. 9. David Fordyce.

The second of Provost George Fordyce's twenty children, and through his mother a relative of Principal Blackwell. M.A., 1728. Preacher of the gospel: no parish. Was recommended by the College to the Crown, in place of Innes. In 1750 got leave of absence and visited Rome: in returning, 1751, was drowned off the coast of Holland. Portrait at Brucklay Castle. Author of Dialogues concerning education, Lond., 1745; Theodorus, 1752; Moral philosophy, Lond., 1754; Temple of virtue, Lond., 1757; British letter-writer, Lond., 1790. (Dingwall Fordyce Fam. Rec.)

1752, July 7. Alexander Gerard.

Son of deceased Gilbert Gerard, minister of Chapel of Garioch. M.A., 1744. Commission dated 18th May. In place of Fordyce, for whom he had acted as substitute, sessions 1750-1 and 1751-2. Demitted 1760, on becoming Professor of Divinity and minister of Greyfriars. D.D., King's Coll., 1761. Moderator of Gen. Assembly, 1764. Professor of Divinity, King's Coll., 1771. Died 1795. Was instrumental in bringing about the fixing of the Classes in 1753. In 1755 his Plan of Education in the Marischal Coll. and University of Aberdeen, with the reasons of it, was printed by order of the Faculty. (German translation pubd. at Riga, 1770. See also George Kerr's Examination of a pamphlet entitled 'Plan of Education, etc.,' Aberd., 1826.) His other works are well known. Married, 14th June, 1757, Jean Wight, with issue: Marjory (m. Patrick Campbell of Stracathro), Gilbert (his successor at King's Coll.), Alexander, John, Jane, and Margaret Helen (m. James Cruickshank of Langley Park). Portrait in possession of University. Together with James Beattie, George Campbell, John Gregory, Thomas Reid, and David Skene, founded the Philosophical Society of Aberdeen. (See Macmillan's Mag. for Sept., 1863.)

1753, Aug. 21. William Duncan.

In place of Verner. Son of deceased William Duncan of Atrochy. M.A., 1735. Had attended some divinity classes, but became a professional author in London. Commission dated, like Gerard's, 18th May, 1752, but on 1st Nov., certified by two physicians to be unable to undertake the journey to Aberdeen, and David Burn, preacher of the Gospel, appointed to conduct his class. Drowned while bathing, 12th May, 1760. Author of Logic (in Dodsley's "Preceptor"), Lond., 1748, etc.; Cæsar's Commentaries, trans., Lond., 1753, etc.; Discourse on Roman art of war, Lond., 1755; editions of Greek New Test. and Ainsworth's Latin Dictionary; Cicero's Select Orations, trans., Lond., 1771; also probably of Vol. II. of Watson's Horace, and of several translations from the French. (Biog. sketch, not very accurate, in Scottish Register, Vol. I.)

By minute of Senatus, of date 11th January, 1753, the subjects and classes had been fixed as follows:—

Francis Skene, professor of Civil and Natural History (semis).
William Duncan, professor of Natural Philosophy (tertians).

1753, Aug. 21. Alexander Gerard, professor of Moral Philosophy and Logic (magistrands).

A programme of the classes as thus arranged appeared in the Aberdeen Journal of 2nd Oct. The King's College professors, while adopting the altered sequence of subjects, adhered to the old system of circulating regents. This, it is understood, was due to the authority of Dr. Thomas Reid, who gave it a decided preference. The grounds on which so enlightened a teacher defended a practice that once extensively prevailed are interesting. The minutes embodying them are quoted in the present editor's Arts Curriculum, Aberd., 1892, p. 13. See also Abstract of some orders and statutes of King's College, Aberd., 1753.

M.D., Glasg., 1831. This appointment caused much dissension. By Mrs. Blackwell's deed of Foundation the Principal and professors were directed to fill up vacancies,by a comparative trial of candidates, but on 21st Sept., 1827, the Commissioners of 1826 expressed doubt as to the right of the principal and professors to nominate, and directed them, in the event of a vacancy therein, to intimate the same to the Commission if then in force. Intimation was sent to the Secretary, but the Commissioners proved to have transmitted their final report, and the faculty accordingly advertised the vacancy, and examiners were selected—Professor Thomson, Glasgow; Rev. A. J. Forsyth, Belhelvie; Professors Davidson, Skene, and Knight. Three candidates appeared: Thomas Clark, William Henderson, M.A., M.D. (who had acted as assistant to Professor French, and was afterwards Lecturer on Materia Medica), and William Laing, M.A., M.D. (afterwards Lecturer on Surgery). It was, however, objected that Clark being only M.D., had not undergone the "regular academical education" required by the "deed of foundation," and his admission as a candidate was carried only by the casting vote of the Principal; Professors Black, Glennie, Knight and Brown voting against him. Prof. Knight thereupon declined to act as Examiner. On the conclusion of the examination, which lasted for three days, the examiners reported unanimously in favour of Clark. (Lengthy Minutes, 20th Aug. to 12th Nov., printed in Appx. to Second Report of 1836-37 Commissioners, pp. 212-220.) In session 1842-43, Clark's health gave way, and, excepting a few

"The Report of the Committee of both Colleges relative to the appointment of Medical Lecturers having been laid before the Faculty and read, they unanimously approve of the same and order it to be recorded in their minutes, whereof the tenor follows:—

"Aberdeen, May 16, 1818.—At a Meeting of the Committees of King's and Marischal Colleges, to arrange a plan for the establishment of a Medical School, held at Marischal College, 16th May, the following regulations were suggested, as most consistent with the constitution of the Colleges, and best adapted to promote the institution, which, under the joint patronage of the two Universities, may attain a greater character, and be more extensively useful, than it could if only supported by one of them.

"1. Both Universities to have equal power over the Medical School.

"2. Courses of Lectures to be given, during the Winter Session, on the following subjects:—Anatomy, Animal Economy, Surgery, Practice of Physic, Theory of Physic, Materia Medica, Clinical Medicine, and Midwifery, and a course of Lectures on Botany during the Summer.

"3. Lecturers on these subjects to be appointed or confirmed before the ensuing Session, or when the state of the School shall be thought to require this nomination.

"4. As the appointment of the Lecturers by a general meeting of both Colleges, having no corporate capacity, might not be deemed valid by the separate Faculties, it is proposed that the nomination to the Lectureships shall belong alternately to each, neither appointing twice successively to the same Lectureship, and that the appointment thus made by one College shall be confirmed by the other; both Faculties entering a regulation in their minutes, binding themselves to this mode of alternate nomination and mutual confirmation.

"5. Lecturers having been named by Marischal College on Anatomy, Surgery, and Materia Medica, before the present plan of joint patronage was thought of, it is recommended that these appointments should in the meantime be confirmed by King's College, and that the first nomination to the vacant Lectureships should proceed from the Faculty of King's College, and be confirmed by Marischal College.

"6. In case the Professors of Medicine of the Colleges should at any time wish to give Courses of Lectures, it will be advisable to reserve the Theory and Practice of Physic for them, the choice of either subject lying with the Professor that first undertakes the duty of lecturing. The appointment of Lecturers on these subjects may therefore be considered as ad interim.

"7. Should any of the Lecturers allow a Session to pass without giving a regular Course, his appointment is to be declared void, unless he shall have been prevented from doing so by bad health, or such reasons as may be deemed satisfactory by the College with which the next nomination to his lectureship lies.

"8. After the first nominations, when a vacancy is to be supplied in any of the established Courses, the College whose turn it is shall appoint a Lecturer within six months after the vacancy has occurred; two meetings of the Faculty having been held, at a month's interval, to consider the best mode of supplying it, and the claims of different candidates.

"9. To facilitate the arrangements necessary in opening and conducting the different Courses, it is recommended that a Standing Committee be appointed by each of the Faculties, to co-operate in superintending and promoting the objects of the Institution; and that a Report of the state of the Medical School be made at least once a year, by this Joint Committee, to a General Meeting of the Faculties of both Universities."

1830, April 3. Alexander Ewing: Surgery.

Confirmed by King's Coll., 16th Apr. "1834, March 15. Some of Dr. Ewing's students prosecute him before the Sheriff for £8 6s. 8d. damage in bilking them of ⅓ of a course of surgery. He began Nov. 4 and their ruffing, which he mistook for applause, made him end 12 March, giving only 58 meetings, of which only 41 available in a certificate, 17 being examinations. He had been absent 27 times, besides raising his fee from 2 to 3 guineas. The action before Sheriff Watson amuses the public and frightens him; he resumes teaching, gets the Principal to go with him to his class, where Dewar blames him in his own presence. In April he terminates, turns restive, and sends long letters to the Senatus, wishing to know whether they account his course complete now: to which such answers as they deserved were sent. Dr. Ewing's class had been most disorderly, a subject being sometimes placed in the desk." (Knight.) Demitted 21 Aug., 1834.

1839, Sept. 3. William Henderson: lecturer on Materia Medica in Marischal College.[1]

[1] On 4th October, 1838, the Senatus of King's College declined to consent to the appearance of the advertisement of the classes of the Joint Medical School which had been annually sanctioned for the twelve preceding years. This refusal was mainly based on the contention that the King's College Senatus should have been consulted as to the amount of accommodation allotted to Medical Classes in the new buildings of Marischal College, in terms of Article 10 in the agreement entered into by the Universities in 1818, as recorded in the Minutes of King's College, on 6th July of that year, viz.:—

"10. An equal number of classes to be taught at each University, if required, and deemed expedient by either. In the mean time, as a room has been built at Marischal College for the Anatomical Lectures, and as great difficulties attending the due supply of preparations, etc., would be increased, by changing the place of teaching, the Anatomical Course may be given at Marischal College—the other Courses at King's or Marischal Colleges, as may be agreed on by the Committee."

This entry did not appear in the corresponding Marischal College Minute of 19th May, 1818, but was duly intimated by King's College to the Commissioners of 1826-30. (Evidence, IV., 180.)

On 20th November, 1838, Mar. Coll. resolved to enquire of King's Coll. "whether they possess any original paper from which the regulations in their minute of 6th July, 1818, were copied". King's Coll. not unnaturally resented this enquiry as equivalent to demanding a proof that their records "had not been vitiated". A copy of the ten regulations in the handwriting of Dr. Skene was produced by King's Coll.; but "only two gentlemen who had a share in the business of this [Marischal] University in 1818 are now alive and their recollections do not supply any information respecting the tenth article".

On 11th April, 1839, the King's Coll. Senatus unanimously resolved "that all connection with the Marischal College in reference to the Medical School shall cease from and after the close of the Session," it being "inexpedient and even dangerous to maintain any further intercourse with Marischal College respecting the Medical School, when the letter and spirit of the original agreement have been so palpably violated". The Mar. Coll. Senatus, while denying "the allegation that they have violated either the letter or the spirit of the original agreement," and finding "a much nearer resemblance to a violation of that agreement in the refusal by members of King's College or its Senatus to sanction the usual advertisement of the Medical Classes," unanimously resolved, on 11th July, "that the agreement entered into by the two Colleges in 1818 in regard to the Medical School and all the arrangements depending upon that agreement are terminated". Extracts from their Records were printed by both Colleges.

(Buik of Reg.) "[signed] Ro Paterson, principall."

In 1697, Main is designated Sacrist. A year after he was appointed Janitor, we find him mortifying some house property towards the support of a bursar of his own kin, the augmentation of the salaries of the Principal and Regents, and the reparation of the fabric of the College (Vol. I., p. 328). John Davidson appears, 1688-1720, as "porter," a term now used to denote the sacrist's subordinate; so Alexander Brebner, under-porter, 1706-20, and porter, 1720-47. John Gibb, porter, 1747-53. Other under-porters were: James Walker, 1709; Peter Robertson, 1713; James Silver, 1739; Samuel Duncan, 1744.

GRADUATES IN DIVINITY, LAW, MEDICINE

OF THE

MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY

OF

GRADUATES OF MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY.

DOCTORS OF DIVINITY.[1]

1724. —— Calder.[2]

So Knight; but the entry in the Accounts, "Parchment for Mr Calder's diploma 12/-," does not seem necessarily to indicate a degree in divinity.

1733. "Price of a Doctor of Divinity gifted to the College by Principal Osborn £20 st." The graduate was "an English Divine".

1736. Philip Doddridge.

The well-known Dissenting minister, Northampton, author of Hymns and various theological works. (Diploma voucher of 27th May: "paid for writing, parchment and a box £4 8s.".) He had D.D. from King's College, 5th July, 1737, and observes:—"I am just going to write a letter of thanks to the College at Old Aberdeen, who, that my name may not be at all

[1] The earliest form of diploma ran as follows:—

"Omnibus et Singulis Quorum Interest S.

"Quum omnis generis honores eum in finem et primo inventi et postea conlati fuerint, ut ingenia hominum excitarent, et bene de Republica seu consulendo· seu agendo mentis laborum suorum fructum aliquem redderent: Nos, Gymnasiarcha et Professores Universitatis Marischallanae Abredonensis, quibus praeclara in literas merita remari [sic] atque inventa remunerarier solenne semper fuit, pro comperto habentes, virum pium et probum A. B. magnos in sacris literis progressus fecisse, eisque praeditum esse moribus qui virum prium et probum deceant et ornent: Propterea, nos supradictum A. B. ornare, qua potis est, volentes, honoribus nostris summis academicis dignum censuimus, atque eundem Sacro-sanctae Theologiae Doctorem creavimus et constituimus, sicut per has praesentes doctoratus literas creamus omnibus ubique bonorum artium studiosis obnixe commendatum habemus ut eum humaniter amplecti et benigne promovere dignentur. Quam gratiam oblata ansa libentes et ex animo bene faciendo reddimus, nos qui chirographis nostris publicoque universitatis sigillo diploma hocce muniendum curavimus.

affected in the dispute between them and the new College about the right of conferring degrees, have also sent me a diploma". (Corresp., III., 275.)

1736. John Milner.

Dissenting minister, London; author of many works.

Abraham Taylor.

Dissenting minister, Deptford. (Diploma voucher of 31st July.)

Alexander Cruden (of the Concordance, then a bookseller in London: see Vol. I., p. 444) writes 5th Aug., 1736, to Principal Osborn,

"I received on the 2d current, Mr Milner's Diploma with a Letter from Mr Verner to Dr Anderson and self. The Doctor has prevailed so far as to get £15 for the Diploma, which I received Yesterday, and he thinks he deserves for this and all his good services a Couple of Pieces, and had a sort of a promise from me to write you so much. . . . Dr. Doddridge was lately in Town and he gave me five Guineas as an Acknowledgment for his Diploma. I suggested to him pretty plainly that it was too little, but he said that he had a great Family, etc., and this was all I could get from him. Please to let me know whether I shall remit these five Guineas, or if you have occasion to lay it out here. Dr Doddridge has promised to be a friend to your College. He has ordered me to bind 3 or 4 Volumes of his Sermons in a very handsome manner for your Library, which I propose to send by C. Keith. I sent down an Attestation of the Revd. Mr Abraham Taylor of Deptford, to obtain the Degree of D.D. from you and the College. It is unknown to him. I will engage that he is worthy of it, for he exceeds all the Dissenting Ministers of my acquaintance for Learning, and his character is every way entire. He has been Author of several things, particularly 2 vol. in 8vo. agt. Arianism. It is designed that a Diploma shall be obtained for Mr Taylor in one or other University. I hope no further Delay will be made in this affair. I daresay he will make a much more handsome Remembrance to the University than Dr Doddridge has done." (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Correspondence, 8".)

1739, June 11. William Braikenridge.

Vicar of New Church, Isle of Wight. Author of Sermons, Lond., 1764, etc. The original attestation in his favour has been preserved:—

In his reflections on it he says:—'I pray God I may not be elevated by any acceptance my labours meet with, but that I may proceed with humility, diligence and integrity in the whole of my life'." (Life by Kippis.)

"Att the Marischall College of Aberdeen, May 31st, 1743.

"The Faculty being duly and met and constitute, compeared Mr James Catanach, advocate in Aberdeen, and applyed to them desiring that he might be admitted to the tryall and examination of his qualifications as Candidate for the degree of Doctor of Laws in this University, and, if found qualifyed, craved that he might be honoured with that degree; Which request the Faculty finding highly reasonable, and from their personall acquaintance with him being fully satisfied of his moral character, he was examined and tryed accordingly by Dr Verner by the appointment of the Faculty, and being found truely well qualified in a strict examination, the Faculty unanimously agreed to create the said Mr James Catanach Doctor of Laws, and appointed the diploma for the said degree to be forthwith extended in due form and signed and sealed."

"I must beg you would present my most grateful acknowledgments to your society for the public mark of their esteem, which you say they are disposed to confer upon me.[1] I embrace with so deep and just a sense of their goodness the substance of that honour they do me, that I hope it may plead my pardon with them if I do not accept the form. I have been, Sir, for several years a member of the University of Cambridge, and formerly (when I had some thoughts of the profession) took a Bachelor of Laws degree there; since that time, tho' long qualified by my standing, I have always neglected to finish my course, and claim my Doctor's degree. Judge, therefore, whether it will not look a slight, and some sort of contempt, if I receive the same degree from a Sister University. I certainly would avoid giving any offence to a set of men, among whom I have passed so many easy, and I may say, happy hours of my life; yet shall ever retain in my memory the obligations you have laid me under, and be proud of my connection with the University of Aberdeen." [1] "There were probably no degrees granted till after 1700 and the appointment of a Professor of Medicine. Attestations from two or three physicians continued to be the practice for a long time. Cases, &c., sent to the candidate for solution, in several instances. No certain account of theses being written or required [See 1784, 1791, 1820]. . . . Till 1794, Nov. 20, the diploma was granted in the name of the Professor of Medicine, the rest signing it. Professor Stuart introduced a new form in the name of the Principal and Professors." (Knight.)

The names of the earlier graduates were taken by Professor Knight from entries of payments for medical degrees in the College Accounts. It seems not unlikely that certain other payments, not explicitly for medical degrees, were really made by M.D.'s. Thus Mr. Matthew Mackaile (M.A., 1708, and Professor of Medicine in 1717) pays £4 in 1711 "for diploma"; and in the same year Mr. Gilbert Cuming, and his brother Mr. George Cuming, pay £30 10s. "for diplomas". So in 1713, Mr. Alex. Lauson; in 1714, Mr. John Anderson, Mr. William Duguid, and Dr. Chalmers' son; and in 1715, Mr. John Irvin. See all these entries quoted infra, under "Graduates in Arts".

The form of diploma used by Professor James Gordon (1734-55) ran as follows. The entries in square brackets are amendments introduced (by Professor Beattie) for Professor Alexander Donaldson (1755-93).

"Universis et Singulis hasce Doctoratus Literas visuris lecturis vel audituris, Nos, Jacobus Gordon, saluberrimae Medicinae in alma Supremi Domini Regis Universitate Marischallana Abredonensi [Aberdonensi] Doctor et Professor, actu Regens et Decanus, Salutem.

[William] Boddum [sic] of Mecklenbergh-Strelitz.

Drs. Saunders and Leo. N.B. Discovered to be the Empiric Brodum from inattention of Dr. Leo. "Dr. Saunders told me that he was deceived by Dr. Leo, a Jew living in his neighbourhood, with regard to Brodum on his first arrival in London. I believe there was no great deception in the case. At least Dr. S. appeared to have given himself no trouble in making the necessary examination before granting the certificate, wishing to oblige the Jew, and caring very little for the reputation of Marischal College. C. S."

[In 1801, Brodum applied for a new diploma, saying he had lost his former one. The College denied that any one had been granted him, the name being Boddum in Dr. Donaldson's Catalogue. He recovered his diploma, however, and sent it to Mr. Chalmers, printer, his quack medicine vendor, when the College had the mortification to see the name properly written, and the diploma perfectly regular. The opinion of Solicitor-General Blair was taken as to the power of the College to degraduate Brodum for "notorious and impudent quackery, . . . and the immoral tendency of many passages in his various publications". Mr. Blair held it "to be clear that an Incorporation has by law no power to expel its own members. For altho' the admission of a member most commonly proceeds upon an act of the incorporated body, yet after being so admitted, the privileges which he thereby acquires become a matter of civil right or property which cannot be taken from him, except upon legal grounds and by the sentence of a competent Court. Universities stand indeed upon a footing somewhat different from other Incorporations, in so far as the original constitution of the University, whether created by foundation charter or otherwise, most commonly delegates to the Rector or some other officebearer in the University a jurisdiction over its own members, which implies a power of expulsion where there is sufficient cause for it. And the foundation charter of the Marischal College of Aberdeen seems to bestow upon the Rector a power of jurisdiction sufficiently ample for this purpose. Altho' it is rather an unfavourable circumstance that no one instance can be found of the rectoral jurisdiction having been exercised to the effect of recalling the degree of Doctor of Medicine once bestowed, either in the University of Aberdeen, or in those of Edinburgh or St. Andrews, which are expressly referred to in the charter. . . . The distinction between a Quack, that is to say a person who takes it upon him to practise physick without having received a proper education and without being graduated Doctor of Medicine, and a regular Physician who has been bred to the business and authorised to practise, is very well known. But amongst those who have received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from an University entitled to grant such degrees (which is the case of Dr. Brodum), I do not know exactly where the line is to be drawn, or what degree of ostentation or ignorance is to fix upon a gentleman of this description the imputation of Quackery, so as to afford a legal ground for depriving him of his degree. . . . The memorialists will consider therefore whether, under all the circumstances, it may not be most prudent for them to submit in silence as they have hitherto done, to a very unpleasant mortification, and rather endeavour if possible to draw good out of evil, by making the case of Dr. Brodum a lesson of caution and circumspection to themselves for the future, in the bestowing Academical honours." "Regulations with respect to the mode of conferring Medical Degrees.

"I. No person shall be received as a candidate for the degree of M.D. unless he have laid before the Senatus Academicus satisfactory evidence of his possessing a good and respectable character, and of his having received a liberal education.

"II. No person shall be received as a candidate for the degree already mentioned until he have produced to the Senatus Academicus certificates of his having attended a course of lectures in Anatomy, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Practice of Physic and Botany (if he has had an opportunity of studying the branch last mentioned) at some University or celebrated School, under Professors or Teachers of reputation.

"III. In every case where the candidate for a degree in Medicine shall happen to be in Aberdeen or at a convenient distance from that city, he shall be required to appear before the Senatus Academicus, and in their presence be examined by the Medical and other professors that the application had taken place before the certifiers could be made acquainted with the regulations". (Min.)] on the different branches of Medical Science, on his knowledge of the Greek and Latin languages and on such other branches of literature as they shall see proper.

"IV. When the candidate for a degree in Medicine is so circumstanced, by reason of his distance from Aberdeen, that he cannot appear in person to be examined, he may be recommended and attested by two Physicians. In this case, these Physicians must themselves be regular graduates in Medicine; they must be known either personally or by reputation to the Professor of Medicine, or to some of the members of the Faculty; and they must attest that what is contained in the first and second regulations is, in all respects, applicable to the Candidate; that they have examined him on the different branches of Medical Science and are satisfied by his answers that his acquirements are such as to entitle him to the degree of M.D.; or in cases where from distance of place such examination cannot be obtained, that they have been long personally acquainted with him, and know that his medical education is as has been above specified, that he has been for years in established practice as a Physician, and in that capacity has rendered himself useful and respectable.

"V. When the candidate has been settled for years, and still is in respectable medical practice, in the East or West Indies or other foreign parts, so that his situation precludes his presenting himself for examination, either at Aberdeen or by the attesting physicians; in such cases the attestations shall bear, in the most ample terms, that the candidate's moral character is, and his education has been such, as are prescribed in the first and second regulations; that his practice has rendered him useful and respectable in his profession; and that the attesters know him to be in all respects worthy of the degree which he solicits.

"VI. Every Candidate for a Medical degree, if required, shall declare and promise that he neither has, nor at any future period of his life shall have, the smallest connection with vending, or patronizing in the way of trade, any patent Specifics or Drugs, or what are commonly called Quack Medicines, nor allow his name to be used in any advertisements or publications of that nature; and that before receiving his degree he shall present to the Faculty a formal letter to the above purpose.

"VII. No degree of M.D. shall be granted till the Senatus Academicus have taken into consideration the character and qualifications of the candidate at two different meetings to be held at the interval of fourteen days; except in cases of urgency, which cases shall be determined by the Faculty."

[1] On 21st January, 1825, a Sub-Committee, appointed by the Medical Committees of King's and Marischal Colleges (supra, p. 66), reported in favour of certain changes in the method followed since 1808 in conferring degrees in Medicine. On 7th March the Marischal College Senatus approved this report, with some slight modifications, and ordered the new regulations to be printed as follows:—

"I. Every Person offering himself as a Candidate for the degree of M.D., shall, 1st, produce satisfactory evidence of his possessing a good character, and of his having attained the age of twenty-five years; and, 2dly, shall lay before the Senatus Academicus Certificates of his having obtained the Degree of A.M. in this or some other University, after the usual examinations; of his having attended Courses of Lectures on Anatomy, Surgery, Chemistry, Materia Medica, the Theory and Practice of Physic, and Botany, in this or some other University, or celebrated School, under Professors or Teachers of reputation; and of his having attended, for three or more years, a Medical Hospital, containing the average number of at least eighty Patients.

"II. After the Senatus Academicus shall have been fully satisfied on the above preliminary points, the Applicant shall be received as a Candidate for the Degree of M.D.; and shall be required to appear before the Senatus Academicus, during the month of April or October; and in their presence be examined, by the Medical and other Professors, on the different branches of Medical Science,—on his knowledge of the Greek and Latin Languages,—and on such other branches of Literature as they shall see proper. If fully satisfied with the qualifications of the Candidate, the University shall confer on him the Degree which he solicits.

"III. When an applicant for the degree of M.D. has been settled for ten years as a Medical Practitioner, and is still in respectable medical practice in Britain, in the East or West Indies, or other Foreign parts, and is entirely precluded by his situation from presenting himself for examination; in such cases, before he be received as a candidate, there shall be laid before the Senatus Academicus satisfactory evidence of his having been ten years a Medical Practitioner, and of his still continuing to be in respectable medical practice,—of his having obtained the Degree of A.M. in some University, after the usual examinations,—of his having attended the above specified courses of lectures,—and either of his having a Surgeon's diploma from the Royal College of Surgeons of London, Edinburgh, Dublin, or Glasgow, or of his having been regularly educated in the Medical School of Aberdeen. After the Senatus Academicus shall have been fully satisfied on these points, such person may be received as a candidate for the degree of M.D., and if he shall then produce attestations from two Physicians who are themselves regular graduates in Medicine, and known either personally or by reputation to the Professor of Medicine, or to some of the Members of the Senatus, bearing on their honour and conscience, that they, from full knowledge, certify the said Candidate to be of irreproachable moral character, respectable and useful in his profession, and, in their judgment, well qualified in every respect to have the highest degree in Medicine conferred on him, the University may in such circumstances bestow on the candidate that degree.

"IV. These regulations are not to be understood as precluding the University from conferring Honorary degrees in Medicine on highly distinguished individuals, who cannot be expected to comply with them, and whom it would be improper to subject to them; but in all such cases the degree shall be conferred unsolicited and free of expence.

"[As the requisition respecting the degree of A.M. might prove injurious to some medical students, whose education is now in progress, were it to take effect immediately, it is resolved that it shall not come into force till the year 1830.]"

On 27th April it was unanimously resolved "That the third regulation with respect to the mode of conferring Medical degrees, inserted in the Minute of the 7th March, shall be rescinded, and that in future every candidate for the Degree of M.D. from this University shall be required to appear personally and submit to an examination in presence of the University".

"A mistake," observes Professor Knight, "was soon discovered of a practical kind. The age of 25 was allowed to remain, whereas it ought obviously to have been altered, so as to agree with that followed by all other Universities of Scotland. This age was also unnecessary, when examination was required. It was still more so, because we required along with it the degree of A.M., which Edinburgh, Glasgow and St. Andrews did not [tho' King's Coll. did: Off. and Grad., p. 160]. It proved injurious to our own alumni, who went to graduate at Edinburgh, after taking A.M. at our strict Examinations in Mar. Coll.: about 10 or 12 M.D.'s of Edinburgh 1825-35 were alumni of ours. It was injurious to all who went abroad after ending their medical education, since they could not be expected to return to Aberdeen from situations in distant parts, or to stay in this country till they were 25."

The personal examination cause prevailed very gradually. Dr. William Cullen, feeling the reproach in 1774, drew up a memorial blaming in severe terms the practice of Aberdeen and St. Andrews. The Duke of Buccleuch, to whom Cullen submitted this memorial, gave it to Adam Smith, who, in a long letter, defended the practice, and contended for free trade in degrees in a very pleasant way. [1] On 21st Jan., 1834, Professor Skene got a committee appointed, consisting of himself, Drs. Macrobin and Clark, to frame new regulations for M.D. After much discussion, and without the consent of King's College, a set of regulations was approved and printed in April, 1838, the age being reduced to 21, but the degree of M.A. being retained.

[2] After the quarrel with King's College in 1839 (supra, p. 69), and the dissolution of the Joint Medical School, each University framed new regulations for M.D. For King's Coll., see Off. and Grad., p. 160. On 19th Dec., 1840, the Marischal College Senatus minute "that they have long regarded a high standard of preliminary education as desirable for graduates in medicine . . . that they long entertained the hope that a degree in Arts, or a standard in merit approaching thereto, as recommended by the Royal Commission of Visitation of 1826-30, would ere now have been required in candidates for medical degrees in all the Universities of Scotland; that the University of Old Aberdeen, which at one time required such a standard, has recently receded from it; that the University of St. Andrews has made no approach to the proposed standard; while the Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow continue to subject candidates to a preliminary examination in Latin only; and that having had the unanimous opinion of their medical professors and lecturers, that so high a standard of preliminary examination as is desirable cannot, while other Universities do not concur in it, be maintained without serious injury to the medical school of this University—they feel themselves compelled to adopt a lower standard. . . . Also having before them the unanimous recommendation of their medical professors and lecturers in favour of introducing the inferior degree of

"CONFERRING OF DEGREES.

"11.—The Degree of Bachelor of Medicine may be conferred on any Candidate who has passed the prescribed Examinations.

"12.—The Degree of Doctor of Medicine may be conferred on any Candidate after passing the prescribed Examinations, who is twenty-two years of age, or on any Candidate who has been at least twelve months a Bachelor of Medicine of this University.

"13.—Graduates who have attended the several Medical Classes in this University, will be charged no Graduation Fees; but from all others the usual Fees will be required."

On the 23rd Feb., 1850, Prof. Clark moved, that no candidate be admitted to Examination "without previous residence here as a Medical Student". This proposal was remitted for opinion to the Medical Committee, who reported unfavourably to the change. On 7th Oct., 1850, the Senatus, on the recommendation of a Special Committee, approved certain alterations on the Regulations of 1849, viz.:—

"9 (Second Clause).—The Senatus reserves to itself the right of exempting Medical Practitioners of experience and good moral character from residence at the University previous to Examination.

"10 [Second clause, 'And the competency,' etc., to be deleted].

"11 [Add].—Practitioners may be admitted without residence to Examination for the Degree of M.B., who have held a Diploma or a Licence in Medicine or in Surgery for at least five years, and who produce satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of having been engaged in practice during that period.

"12.—The Degree of M.D. may be conferred on any candidate after passing the prescribed Examinations, who is twenty-two years of age, or on any candidate who has been at least twelve months a Bachelor of Medicine of this University, after residing therein. Practitioners may be admitted, without residence, to Examination for the Degree of M.D. who have held a Diploma or a Licence in Medicine or in Surgery for at least ten years, and who produce satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of having been engaged in practice during that period. Practitioners who have held for at least three years the Degree of M.B., obtained without residence, may receive the Degree of M.D. upon producing satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of having been engaged in practice during possession of the inferior degree."

These rules remained in force until 15th April, 1857, when residence for at least one winter session was again made compulsory on all candidates. Infra, p. 172.

ALUMNI AND GRADUATES IN ARTS

OF THE

OF

ABERDEEN

Photogravure by Robert Stott, Glasgow.

Robert Gordon of Straloch.

FROM THE PAINTING BY JAMES SHARPE, THE PROPERTY OF ROBERT JOHN GORDON, COLLEGE, ABERDEEN.

ALUMNI AND GRADUATES IN ARTS.

"Robert Gordon of Straloch, who was the first Master of the liberal arts created in the Marishalls College of Aberdeen [presumably in 1597], and one of the Cheife Barrons of the name of the noble and ancient families of the Gordons in the north part of the Kingdom. He wrote learnedly on the Mathematicks, and drew severall geographical maps of almost all the counties and shires in the Kingdome of Scotland." (Cat. Scot. Writers.) Born 1580. Portrait by Jamesone in Robert Gordon's College, Aberdeen, reproduced in this volume. [Dict. Nat. Biog. Spald. Club Misc., I., 29.]

Another name is preserved in the Town Council Register for 31st July, 1601 (Vol. XL., p. 101), when Mr. James Robertson, student of 1595-99, assigns the arrears of a "pension" of twenty merks granted him by Principal Howie.

Among probable early students of note are Thomas Reid (p. 31) and David Wedderburne (p. 63), who were appointed teachers in the Grammar School, 6th Feb., 1602; Patrick Dun (pp. 10, 28, 32); Patrick Copland, benefactor (Vol. I., p. 160); Thomas Reid's brother, Dr. Alexander (Vol. I., pp. 226-236); Andrew Ramsay (Vol. I., p. 186), professor of divinity, Saumur and Edinburgh, and Latin poet; and Gilbert Jack, professor of philosophy, Leyden (Vorst's Oratio funebris). Arthur Johnston, the poet, born circa 1577 (Musa Lat. Aberd., II., xxvii.), and Rector of King's College, 1637, had probably studied at the sister University; and, notwithstanding the comments of Mr. Bulloch in his George Jamesone, pp. 38-41, there is no proof that the painter attended either college.

ALBUM I. (1605-1681).

Deus nobiscum.[1]

Statuta et conditiones quibus fidem obstringunt suam qui Accademiae albo ambiunt inscribi.

1. Praeceptoribus accademiae omnibus et singulis debitam quamdiu hic versamur reuerentiam, et eorum doctrinae et disciplinae tam priuatae quam publicae, promptam paratam et uoluntariam obedientiam nos et sponte exhibituros et deo dante fideliter prestituros sancte et relligiose promittimus.
2. Arma nulla nec in gymnasio nec in ciuitatis plateiis circumferam, nec cum veteranis studiosis contentionis aut seriae aut jocularis genus inconsultis preceptoribus aut venia a gymnasiarcha non impetrata suscipiam.
3. Fidem accademiae huic datam, alio ante exactum philosophiae curriculum transmigrando, ni secus parentum impellat authoritas sciens volensque nullorum malo consilio aut hortatu fallam.
4. Legibus denique gymnasii huius et statutis et statuendis pro eiusdem pace et disciplina firmanda et seruanda et subscribimus et nos uolentes subiicimus.

[1] These entries are taken from the original record, which now forms part of Album I. The names, except where otherwise indicated, are autograph. In the MS. no special order is at first traceable in the signatures of each year, but, for convenience of reference, it has been thought desirable to adopt from the outset the alphabetical arrangement under prenames, not under surnames, which afterwards became characteristic of the Marischal College registers. The first, undated, group of names appears to include entrants of different years prior to 1605, and probably subsequent to 1598, when Gilbert Gray became Principal.

Ab iisdem etiam cautum est vt Regentibus debita exhibeatur obedientia et reverentia ab omnibus promiscue classibus eoque magis illis obsequium prestetur quo maior temporis huius necessitas hoc flagitat.

Ab eodem etiam coetu statutum ne cui discipulo arma aut arcum ferre aut priuatim vspiam recondere liceat ac ut preceptores per singula cubicula attente et diligenter in ea inquirant et si qua ab inquirentibus deprehensa vt non solum iuxta academiae leges delinquens plectatur sed et arma confiscentur sine vlla prorsus restitutione.

Statutum etiam ne quis maledicum carmen aut libellum famosum conficiat aut confectum conficiendumve promulget vel cum alio quoquam recitando legendo aut impertiendo communicet sed repertum ita supprimat ne in aliorum manus postea vllatenus veniat: qui secus faxit loco autoris ipsius habitum eum iri ac proinde iisdem poenis quae ipsi maledici carminis artifici debeantur afficiendum.

Cumque disciplinae neglectus nimis quam invaluerit per hoc temporis quo haec statuta decretum ibidem vt tum in has publicis tabulis iam insertas tum in reliquas omnes academiae leges discipuli omnes solenniter iurent et religiose vt restaurata deinceps disciplinae iam collapsae integritate bonarum literarum studiis morumque probitati suus sit in posterum locus.

[3] From the printed Theses of 1625 in the Bodleian Library. Dedicated to Provost Paul Menzies, Dr. Wm. Forbes, "rectori magnifico," and Wm. Guild. The Theses for 1624 have not been traced, and so with many subsequent years, but there can be little doubt that from 1622, when Edward Raban began his work in Aberdeen (Off. and Grad., p. 183), down to at least 1732, infra, hardly a year passed without a print of Marischal Coll. Theses appearing from the local press. Unfortunately not a third of these have survived. The Aberdeen University Library possesses only thirteen (1623, 1631, 1643, 1658, 1659, 1660, 1669, 1673, 1700, 1704, 1708, 1726 and 1732); while the Bodleian has fourteen (1625, 1626, 1627, 1630, 1634, 1637, 1654, 1656, 1657, 1687, 1689, 1693, 1699 and 1714); Glasgow University three (1697, 1712 and 1730); and Mr. Chalmers of Westburn one (1721).

[1] From the printed Theses of 1673, Mar. Coll. Charter Chest: a folio broad-sheet printed on satin with illuminated border—probably the copy intended for the Earl. The Dedication, "Georgio Comiti Mariscallo Patrono et Maecenati suo perpetua fide colendissimo," runs as follows:—

"Nobilissime Comes. Dum Thesibus hisce nostris in publicum prodeuntibus patronum quaero, neminem praeter inclytam celsitudinem vestram inter homines reperio, sub cujus patrocinio in lucem emitterentur. Quis quaeso mihi indignetur, quod te unum ex omnibus compellem? Quin potius aequissimo jure censebor egisse, quod te tam egregium elegerim patronum, prosapia et natalium splendore nobilem, nulli tota Scotia procerum stemmatis antiquitate cedentem, a mille namque et pene sexcentis retro annis, in hodiernum usque diem, Dei gratia, summorum hujus regni principum cognationibus semper innexus perdurus. Certe nobilissimi viri Rob. Kethi praeclara encomia (ob singularem ejus virtutem, qua Camum Danorum ducem fudit fugavitque) Annales Scotici non tacent. Neque inclyti ducis Rob. Kethi, qui amisso patre, et magno propinquorum numero, in pugna Duplinensi, sumptis armis, strenue suorum cladem ultus, Perthum urbem ab hoste insessam cepit, moenia diruit, soloque aequavit, Anno Christi 1332. Fragranti etiam memoria est GEORGIUS avus tuus, qui Rege Iacobo delegatus in Daniam suis splendori et ornamento. At plus tibi laudis adfert, (Clariss. Maecenas) quod ab iis sis oriundus, qui Mariscalli magistratum decursu continuo septingentorum annorum, summa cum fide gesserunt. Sed quorsum tuorum majorum amore, et virtutibus enumerandis abducor, an quia non est quod de te dicam? Nequaquam, eadem tibi virtus, (Nobiliss. Comes) modo qualia iis tibi pariter contigissent tempora. Testantur id, tum eximiae et heroicae admodum illae virtutes (generositas, magnanimitas, animi aequitas, constantia, fides) quae tanquam natura in te amicissime conspirare videntur. Tum singularis illa comitas qua omnes demereris, devincis, omnium benevolentiam amoremque concilias. Modestiam tuam laedere metuerem, si diutius indubitatae tuae laudis praeconio immorarer, unum me posse adjicere posse arbitror. Summam esse saeculi nostri fœlicitatem, quod tu alter GEORGIUS exoriaris qui musas tuas, et causam esse quoque mihi specialem, quod rem geram tuis auspiciis, quia sciz. tuus ille magnus avus, D. Gilbertum Graium avum meum ejusque fratrem Patricium, adeo humaniter benevoleque exceperit et illum Gymnasiarchae, hunc praeceptoris albo, in celebri tua Academia, inter varios quam meritissimos inseruerit, quodque tu me obstringere pergas, dum in eadem Regentis fungi officio permittis, quod licet non promerear, ingratus tamen videbor, nisi aliquo argumento quantumvis exiguo me tibi probarem. Digneris itaque (Nobiliss. Comes) Theses hasce nostras nominis tui splendore collustratas, libenti animo suscipere, cum desunt mihi alia grati animi specimina, quae tanto reponerem patrono. Vale Nobiliss. Comes. Deus op. max. te incolumem diu conservet, ad fœlicitatem splendidissimae tuae familiae, Reip. utilitatem, et Academiae tuae bonum."

[1] This is the opening entry in Album II. All the entries down to 1770 are in the same handwriting. Several of the early lists are obviously copied from the printed Theses (as in 1704, 1708, 1712, 1721, 1726, 1730, 1732—still extant), others, according to Knight, "from names placed on the panels of the window sides of the College Hall. . . . Each regent recorded [in the Theses] his own class in the Magistrand year, adding to the list all the students who had attended any one of the four years." See 1700, p. 275. The graduates are not marked "A.M." till 1742. The letter g appended to a student's name (1698-1749) implies that he came from the Grammar School (see 1692); the numerals i., ii., iii., iv. (1698-1714) imply that he paid chamber maills as a student of the first, second, third, or fourth year respectively.

[1] This list coincides exactly with that in the printed Theses of 1708 in Aberdeen University Library—Praeses, William Smith—dedicated to George, Earl Keith, eldest son of William, ninth Lord Marischal. Lord Keith, who was then a boy of fourteen, about to enter College, is addressed by Professor Smith in highly eulogistic terms. "Te ex praenobili ac longissima heroum serie natum, ad maxima destinasse videtur naturae Author, qui te vultu pulcherrimo, corpore vegeto et decoro, animo erecto, et vivaci donavit ingenio. Et tu solicita nobilissimorum parentum cura, in literis et moribus, pietate et virtute, fœliciter hucusque enutritus, praeclaros pro aetatis tuae ratione fecisti progressus; tanta indolis suavitate et innata polles prudentia, ut ab auspicatissimis hisce principiis et coruscantibus virtutum igniculis, omnium spes et vota amplissima splendidae tuae domus incrementa fidenter praesagiant. . . . Familiae Marischallanae haeredem Minervam et Themida cum Marte consociare summopere decet." In the printed Theses italics are used to distinguish, from the "Candidati," those "qui idem stadium philosophicum cum illis ingressi sed curriculum academicum penitus emensi non sunt".

[1] From the printed Theses for 1714 in the Bodleian Library. The dedication by Professor Peacock runs as follows:—

"ILLUSTRISSIMO, NOBILLISSIMO & POTENTISSIMO HEROI, D. GEORGIO, COMITI MARISCHALLO, Domino de KEITH, ALTRIE, ETC.

"Musarum Suarum Fautori & Patrono, omni Honore & observantiâ semper Colendo.

"ILLUSTRISSIME HEROS,

"MIhi non diu deliberandum fuit, cui decermina hæc Philosophica nuncuparem, cuinam enim debentur, nisi Tibi Nobilissimo Comiti MARISCHALLO. Tibi enim ac Illustrissimæ Tuæ Familiæ, omnibus Gratitudinis & Humillimi obsequii vinculis, me astrictum libenter agnosco: quòd enim in Album Professorum Inclytæ Tuæ Academiæ Cooptatus fuerim, ubi quamplurima Vitæ hujus commoda, multos per annos sum nactus: post DEUM Op. Max. Avo Tuo Nobilissimæ Memoriæ, & Illustrissimæ Familiæ MARISCHALLANÆ unicè debeo. Urbs etiam hæc Abredonia, tum domi, tum foris, apud exteras gentes clara, claritudinis Suæ atque Famæ, præcipuas mutuatur partes, à benevolentia & generositate, Nobilium Tuorum Progenitorum, qui ibidem fundârunt & reditibus variis locupletârunt Academiam hanc, è cujus gremio progressi sunt quamplurimi, Pietate & Eruditione insignes, ab Orbe Literario, in summo semper Honore habiti, Urbis & Academiæ decus & ornamentum. Libenti animo descenderem, in antiquitatem Illustrissimæ Familiæ MARISCHALLANÆ, per multas Annorum Centurias enarrandam, in Heroicam etiam & invictam Magnanimitatem, Progenitorum Tuorum Nobilium, & in Regem fidem intemeratam: sed cùm publici Regni Annales, hæc omnia abundè testentur, soli Lucem non fœnerabor. Animo etiam lubentissimo descenderem in Heroicas Tuas, tum animi, tum corporis dotes enumerandas, atque innata Virtutum Tuarum semina, in frugiferam messem, jam efflorescentia, quæ te Magnis SCOTIÆ MARISCHALLIS æqualem reddent, sed cum summæ Virtutes Tuæ, omnia mea superent elogia, me reprimam, ne modestiam Tibi adeò connaturalem, offendere videar. Levidente est hoc opusculum Philosophicum & tanto Heroe minimê dignum, est tamen præcipuum atque unicum, quod Tibi offerre valeo, id igitur ut humillimi obsequii & sinceræ gratitudinis indicium, recipere digneris; & ut DEUS Op. Max te diu incolumem conservet pro Familiæ Tuæ Nobilissimæ, Academiæ & omnium bonorum & literatorum commodo, animitùs comprecabuntur."

Thomson petitioned the Town Council "mentioning that after tryall taken of the petitioners' qualifications in the moneth of November 1715 years, the tyme of the late Rebellion, they were presented to bursaries in the College Marischall of Aberdein, and continued at the said College untill Candlemas thereafter, that their masters the Regents deserted them and left the College; and there being nothing taught in the College since that tyme, the petitioners applyed to your honours and were by your order examined by the present Masters of the said College and found by them sufficiently qualified in Latine and Greek for entering to the Semi class". [7] This list, from Album II., coincides exactly with that given in the printed Theses of 1732: dedicated to Provost James Morison and the Town Council of Aberdeen. Italics are used presumably with the same signification as in former years. (See 1708.) For the curious history of the copy in Aberdeen University Library, see Notes and Queries, 6, vii., 444. These Theses, the latest that have been traced (cf. 1623, supra), are entitled, Dissertatio philosophica de natura et legibus materiae, and are sixteen in number, filling ten small quarto pages.

[3] In session 1772-73 the records in Album II. become much fuller, the parentage of the students being given. The members of the Class of 1769-73 are entered only as magistrands; those of 1770-74 only as tertians and as magistrands; of 1771-75 only as semis, as tertians and as magistrands; of 1772-76 only as bajans and as magistrands; of 1773-77 only as bajans, as tertians and as magistrands. In the Class of 1774-78 and in all later classes, the records of the bajans, semis, tertians, and magistrands are practically complete. To obviate undue repetition, a student's name is printed only once for any Class, and to it are suffixed the letters b, s, t, m, and A.M., according as the Album shows him to have been a bajan, semi, tertian or magistrand of that Class, or to have graduated. Occasionally a student, entering College with a certain Class, pretermits attendance for a session or more, and reappears as a member of a later Class. The names of the bajans of a Class are printed first in the usual alphabetical order of prenames. Then follow the additional semis, the additional tertians and the additional magistrands, each forming a separate alphabetical arrangement, and having suffixed figures and letters with the usual significance. From 1772 to 1787 the entries in the Album are almost always holograph of the students. (See details in Preface.) The names of Honorary Masters of Arts are added from the Minutes and Accounts.

[4] The names of the semis of 1774-75 are not recorded. The Album list of tertians of 1775-76 is imperfect. The entries in brackets [t] are taken from the signatures appended to a letter addressed to Professor Patrick Copland by the members of his first class, which is otherwise of interest as fixing the date when Latin ceased to be used colloquially in the College.

"Hond. Sir,

"Uncertain whether at the coming public examination you propose to examine the students of this class in the Latin language, or to deviate from a custom which we apprehend has not many cogent reasons to support it, we beg leave respectfully to lay before you our sentiments on this subject, hoping you will condescend to consider and (should it appear reasonable) comply with the subsequent request. We beg leave to observe that speaking Latin is not commonly considered as a necessary branch of education; we are, indeed, instructed to read and write that language with propriety; but to speak it, and that fluently, would be a very difficult attainment, a faculty of no material use, and what we may venture to assert very few are possessed of. The public examination, we apprehend, is intended to prove what proficiency we have made in Natural Philosophy, not in the Latin Tongue: would it not then be unjust that by reason of an inferior degree of knowledge in that language, or probably from an accidental want of expression, any one of us should incur the reproach of ignorance and inattention, when possibly that very person may have applied himself most diligently to the subject we have been studying? In fine, that the possibility of this and other disagreeable consequences may be removed, and that this class may not labour under a disadvantage from which every other is now exempt. With due deference to your superior judgment, we make this unanimous request that we may be examined in no other than our native language; and in return for this condescension we hope to evince that the care and attention you have bestowed in instructing us have not been ineffectual."

The "public examination" referred to was not the graduation examination, for some account of which see infra, 1821-25.

[9] In the latter half of the eighteenth century the degree examinations had become altogether farcical. "They consisted of a series of Latin questions in Logic and Rhetoric, introduced by Dr. Beattie about 1765 or later, when public laureations were discontinued. The same set answered for all years: the Professor of Moral Philosophy dictating copies of both questions and answers to the candidates, hearing them recite by rote the answers, and then hearing them a second time recite the same in presence of the Faculty. This plan, by which no one could possibly be rejected, continued till 1824. . . . The innovation of Dr. Beattie was, doubtless, partly sanctioned by the still older custom of giving assistance to the graduates in their themes and declamations; but it had long ere 1824 become a great nuisance and disgrace. And, as if to sanction such a fraud on the College and the public, the words of the diploma remained unaltered, 'ingenii sui ac eruditionis luculento specimine edito,' which became an obvious untruth" (Knight's MSS.).

On 7th March, 1825, the Senatus, "being of opinion that some alteration should be made," enjoined each Professor to examine the candidates in the last week of the Session, "at whatever hours he shall find most convenient and in the manner which he himself approves": on the day of graduation the Professor of Moral Philosophy to examine "in the manner which he approves, on which occasion also the Principal may, if he chooses, put such questions as he shall think fit. . . . Due allowance to be made for the short notice which can now be given to the candidates" (Min.).

"We were glad," says Knight, "to get rid of the abuse of the last 50 years. There were 31 candidates; of whom 5 were rejected for answering not one word. But, to the astonishment of all, Dr. Glennie held his examination, in the old mode, by the old Latin questions: thus tying the living to the dead. For the rejected students pled afterwards that they answered all his questions as well as any others who passed! Three of the five presented a memorial to the Rectorial Court of Hume."

[1] As a natural sequence to the new examinations for M.A. (1821-25, supra), a system of entrance examinations was established. In session 1826-27 these were imposed on all bursars of the 2nd, 3rd or 4th years; in 1827-28 they were made compulsory on all gowned or public students. Students not passing these examinations were allowed to matriculate and attend classes; but were styled private students. Such are indicated by a prefixed italic p.

[4] "And so, for four years, we wore the red gowns and the red velvet collars which were the compulsory costume of the Students of Arts, till one early spring-day we were ranged ceremoniously in the public hall, some eighteen or twenty of us who had completed the curriculum out of a class originally seventy strong; and there, clad all uncouthly in black silk gowns, which the college beadles had begged, borrowed, or stolen from the city clergy for the occasion, were made to repeat the words of a Latin oath, and, having been dabbed on the head individually by the Principal with a sacred bit of black velvet, were created and admitted Masters of Arts. . . . What a flock of fledgelings were these (the youngest of us exactly sixteen years and four months old) that flew off into the world from that northern nursery of learning, feathered loyally with the fine designation." Professor David Masson in Macmillan's Magazine for February, 1864.

The identifications of this Class are mainly from a MS. record kept by one of its surviving members, Mr. George Allan.

[1] See pp. 31-50. There seems no reason to doubt that a bajan class began studies in Marischal College in the autumn of 1593, the year of its foundation. The buildings of the Gray Friars were ready to accommodate them (vol. i., p. 85), and we find that an Economus or steward had been appointed on 18th June (supra, p. 33). Doubtless, as in Edinburgh (Dalziel's Hist., vol. ii., pp. 11-19), the Principal conducted the earliest entrants through the four years of their curriculum, the three regents being added in 1594, 1595 and 1596 respectively, as the advent of new classes made the need for them felt. The names of these early regents have not been preserved, and, indeed, prior to 1678, when the Register of Presentationes begins, it is impossible to assign with absolute certainty the classes to the various teachers. Down to about 1641 (vol. i., p. 64; cf. Off. and Grad. of King's Coll., p. 315), the four regents (till 1620 the three regents and Principal) were Professors of Greek, Logic, Moral Philosophy and Natural Philosophy, and did not "circulate".
